Jonathan Wilson, Union Township
Farmer Hurt When Auto
Hits His Buggy

SUSTAINS BROKEN RIBS

Frank Crist And Ross Wiles of Orange Are Injured When
Buggy is Upset

Three men were hurt in accidents
while riding in buggies near Glenwood last night, none of them being likely to result fatally.

Jonathan Wilson, a well known farmer of Union township, is in a serious condition as a result of an accident last night east of Glenwood. The buggy in which Mr. Wilson was driving was accidentally hit by the automobile driven by Edward Murphy. Mr. Wilson sustained two broken ribs and numerous cuts and bruises about the head and body
when he was thrown from the buggy.

Fifteen stitches were taken and while no serious results are expected
Mr. Wilson will feel the effects of the accident for some time. Mr. Wilson was driving towards Glenwood and Murphy was going in the opposite direction. Mr. Murphy has the reputation of being a careful driver and could hardly explain how he happened to hit the buggy.

Frank Crist and Ross Wiles of Orange were painfully hurt last night when the buggy in which they riding upset in a ditch. The accident occurred just south of Glenwood. The horse frightened at a passing automobile, but did not attempt to run off after the buggy upset.

Mr. Crist was the worse hurt of the two. A radial artery in his wrist was severed and the flow of blood was stopped with great difficulty. He was removed to the office of Dr.
Walther in Glenwood. A total of seven stitches were taken to close the wound. Mr. Wiles was cut about the legs.

The little son of Mr. Crist, who was with them, escaped injury

HAS THREE THINGS TO BE CONSIDERED

County Board of Education Will

will hold an important meeting Monday. It is expected that the date monthly meeting of the board.

In addition to this the attendance officer for the ensuing year will be elected. So far there is no opposition to James Miller, the present official and it is expected he will be re-elected.

The report of the school enumeration is also due on this day, but it is not expected that all of the trustees will be ready to report.

Treasurer's Office Expects Rush
From Now Until Monday

Taxes collected yesterday
amounted to $22,709. The treasurer's office is now ready for the final rush and starting tonight the office will be open until nine o'clock at night until the closing night, Monday. The office will close at five o'clock in the afternoon and will open again at seven o'clock. Because of the large amount of money yet to be collected the final days
of the taxpaying season are expected to be busy ones.

WAGONS TO CALL EARLY IN WEEK

City Will Begin Making Rounds
Next Monday the First Day of
Clean-up Week

PEOPLE ASKED TO BE READY

The city wagons will start making the rounds Monday, the first day of clean-up week. It was at first planned to make the rounds later in the week, but the street commissioner has found that there is a shortage in teams and he would like to get the work over with as quickly as possible.

People who expect the city to help them in the clean-up are urged to get their trash ready at the earliest possible moment. Will Havens, street commissioner, said today that the city wagons would start Monday morning and was anxious that as much trash as possible be in place for the wagons. The wagons will continue all week until the entire city is gone over.

BOTH ADDRESSES ARE FINE

Two commencements were held in Rush county last night, one at Arlington and the other at Raleigh.

Ballard of Lewisville. The commencement address was pronounced
one of the best heard in Rush county this year. The graduates are:

Posey, May Gardner, Mary Cono-way, and Effie Offutt and Omar Mc-Kibben, Tom Saunders, Arthur Con-
oway, and Everard Johnson. Supt.
George presented the diplomas.

Three boys and one girl were graduated from the Raleigh high school as follows: Miss Clara Hiner Lavon Hall, Dwight Brooks, and Fay Whitton. The Rev. Charles Whitman of Liberty delivered the class address and the exercises were

TO TALK OILING AND WATER RATE

Council Will Have Important Meeting Friday Night to Discuss Means of Raising Money

REBATE FOR WATER METERS

Remonstrances Will be Received Against Oiling, But None is Expected to Stick

The special meeting of the city council Friday night promises to be one of importance. At this meeting remonstrance will be heard on the proposed street oiling. Already several remonstrances have been filed and action of the council is watched with interest. In addition to this the council will discuss the recent ruling of the Public Service Commission granting the city an increase in water rates.

The council is expected to discuss ways and means of paying the money to be rebated for water meters. Under the ruling of the commission the city is prohibited from charging for meters of for the work of installation. The ruling of the commission does not state that the city must refund the money, but the order just as good as says it is unlawful to make this charge and there is every reason to believe that the city will refund the money.

The amount invested in water meters $12,000 and $13,000. To repay this amount will hit the city hard, but there is nothing else to do
from all indications. The question will undoubtedly be settled by the council tomorrow night.

It is likely that a bond issue will be made to meet the amount to be refunded. Some of the city officials believe that a bond issue is better than borrowing the money. Some people, thinking the city was ready to refund the money, have already filed their claims. It is pointed out that this is not necessary at this early a date as they will be given plenty of time to file the claims. The council will first make the necessary appropriations and provisions for meeting the issue.

The street oiling is likely to go through as in years past. Many of the remonstrances filed cover only parts of streets and the council in former years has held that these remonstrances are not good as the
entire street must be acted upon.
The council has held that parts of streets cannot be eliminated from the oiling by remonstrance. In the original resolution each street was named for the entire length and the city holds that since this is the case a remonstrance against any part of
it would not hold good.

house industry were indefinitely closed by orders of the management today.

failed to report for work in the last few days. The total number of munition workers on strike today was placed at 30,000 by strike leaders.

School Children on Speaking Terms
With Most of Them Since Contests Were Announced

BY THE AUDUBON SOCIETY

Bird Houses Are Being Erected Promiscuously by Pupils Trying for Prizes

Chances are that all of the school children in Rushville will be on speaking terms with all of the bird family in Rushville. Part of the school kids know all the birds by their first name now and all of the kids are acquainted with a part of the birds, but whether all of the pupils will be close acquaintances of all the birds by the time the annual meeting of the Audubon society and the Nature Study club meets under way here tonight is another question.

At any rate, it is a safe venture to guess that the children in the public schools have learned more about the things that fly in the air than they would have found out in a long and useful life, by reason of the fact that the two state societies selected Rushville for their meeting place this year.

The approaching meetings has aroused interest in the public schools, largely because of the contests for school children. There is one in which prizes are offered for the school boy—or girl for that matter, if she is agile enough—who places the greatest number of bird boxes in the city block in which he lives.

Early reports are that all of the scrap lumber in some districts of the city has been used up and fatherer's hatchet and mother's kitchen knife have been dulled almost beyond the point of sharpening.
It is stated upon good authority that one school boy thinks he has
the first prize clinched because he had twenty-seven bird houses in his block. Some other boys are going to cause him to have some more mashed fingers and blistered hands before they allow him to "take home
the bacon."

The interest of the school children
has been aroused, but the school authorities would like to have the grownups of Rushville also display some interest and show that they are pleased to be so honored by having present members of the two distinctly unique societies.

The night meetings tonight and Friday evening offer especially attractive programs and are open to the general public. The best authorities on bird life in the United States will speak at these meetings. There will be something of interest for the members of the society all day tomorrow and Saturday morning.

Friday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock
there will be a business meeting at the Windsor hotel and at two o'clock
of the same afternoon the members of the Audubon society and the Nature Study Club will assemble at the Graham Annex for a "hike" which will take them up along the mill race bank.

The last ceremony of the meeting will be the raising of the $15,000
Martin house at the Graham Annex school ground. The programs state that thanks is due the Charles E.
Francis company of this city for the fir pole on which the house will be raised. W. E. Wilson, the builder of the Martin house, will be present
to superintendent the raising. Mr.
Wilson and his wife gave the Martin house for this demonstration.

All night programs will take place in the Graham Annex auditorium.
The program for this evening fol-

PRISONERS SAID TO HAVE BEEN KILLED

Four Mexicans Trying to Escape
Shot Down by Troopers—

GUARDS DRIVE OFF SNIPERS

(By United Press.)

Columbus, N. M., April 27.—Four
Mexican prisoners at Casas Grandes are reported today to have been killed by United States sentries on attempting to escape. Scores of Vil-listas captured are said to be held at various points along the American communication lines. Much valuable information has been obtained from them.

Two Mexicans wounded in an attack on a supply train near Satevo recently were captured, according to motor truck guards who arrived today.

Twenty Mexicans ambushed the train at night. The guards sought cover behind the steel wheels of their trucks and beat off the snipers after a short, hot exchange of shots.

GERMAN CRISIS LOOKS PASSED

Under Explicit Instructions to

German Emperor Meets Navy And
Army Heads And Discusses
American Demands

By CARL W. ACKERMAN
(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

Berlin, Apr. 27.—The crisis of the German-American situation resulting from the submarine controversy has virtually passed. There will be no rupture of diplomatic relations from development to date. The United Press is able to make this statement today on most excellent authority.

Pending negotiations for a more complete understanding, German submarine commanders will be under explicit instructions which will prevent repetition of acts complained of while negotiations are pending.

The high point of danger was reached and passed two days ago when the foreign office was informed of the attitude of President Wilson.

The tense attitude of a few days
ago has changed from one of eager expectancy as to just what form the settlement will take. The formal reply to Washington will be delayed several days pending dispatches
from Ambassador Bernstorff.

Ambassador Gerard will leave for grand army headquarters tonight for a conference with the kaiser.

Chancellor Von Bethmann-Hollweg, who is now with the kaiser, is expected to return to Berlin tomorrow to prepare the reply to the American note.

A momentous conference, with the continuance of friendly relations between the United States and Germany in the balance, was in progress today at grand army headquarters.

The kaiser received the views of Chancellor Hollweg, General Falkenhayn, chief of the general staff of the army, and Admiral Von Holtzendorff, chief of the admiralty staff.
He lacked only further work from Washington, expected through Ambassador Gerard before many hours, defining more accurately the American submarine demands.

It is the general understanding
here that Germany will not meet fully President Wilson's demand in the reply to be forwarded to Washington early next week. How far Germany will go no one pretends to know, but well informed Berlin newspapers believe the German concessions will suffice to prevent a diplomatic break.

Washington, April 27.—Germany's answer to the United States submarine demands will not reach Washington until the end of next week, according to private Berlin advices reaching here today.

A large paint manufacturer asked this question
of retailers throughout the country:

NO. 9 SAID:

"I think newspaper publicity
a necessity to get the best possible results from an advertising campaign."

"It not only brings customers to the store, but when we solicit business it is much easier to sell a paint that has been advertised locally than one people have never heard of. I think it is money well spent."

Senator Husting of Wisconsin Shows Similarity of Telegrams Reaching Congress

WRITERS HAVE INSIDE NEWS

(By United Press.) Washington, April 27.—Proof that the bushels of peace telegrams which today continued to overwhelm congress are from a single inspired source was submitted on the senate floor this afternoon by Senator Husting of Wisconsin.

He collected messages from a half dozen states showing all the contexts followed a dozen or so forms although the writers were hundreds of miles apart. He broadly insinuated that German money paid the bills.

"These plotters," he said, "have filled the people with the fear that their president and congress are trying to get us into war I say without qualification that thus we face a worse danger within our republic than we do from foreign foes."

"Who paid for these telegrams, and who furnished the writers with their inside information? They pretend to know what Germany's reply will be."

Shea of Seymour to a diplomatic post. Samuel L. Scott of New Albany was nominated for superintendent of public instruction. Daniel C. McIntosh of Worthington was the other candidate. MARTIAL LAW IS SET UP IN IRELAND

Premier Asquith Startles Parliament With Announcement That Rebellion Continues

SITUATION STILL SERIOUS

(By United Press.) London, April 27.—Martial law was proclaimed today throughout Ireland when reports reached the government that the rebellion is spreading.

Premier Asquith startled parliament this afternoon with a frank admission that prosperous western counties are showing signs of dissatisfaction and that street fighting continues in Dublin, where the rebels still hold some important buildings, despite the efforts of British troops. Parliament had expected to hear that the rebellion was completely crushed and the statement that the situation was "still serious" came as a thunderbolt.

When Asquith concluded Sir Edward Carson, Unionist leader, and John Redmond, Irish Nationalist leader, bitter foes in the home rule fight, joined hands in strong declarations of support of the government.

DON'T WANT TO CHANGE HABIT OF BEING AN AMERICAN.

Bloomington, Ind., April 27.—The troubles of Dr. Carl H. Eigenmann, member of the faculty of Indiana University and an authority on blind fishes, who for some time has been trying to secure naturalization papers as an American citizen, seem to be without end. Last fall Dr. Eigenmann organized an expedition to South America to study the fishes of that country, but then it was learned for the first time that he was not an American citizen, although he admitted that he had voted in this country for many years. The discovery was made when he applied for passports, which were necessary because of the war. The expedition had to be delayed because Dr. Eigenmann did not wish to risk capture by the English on the sea.

Dr. Eigenmann was born in Germany but came to this country when a youth with his parents and supposed that he was an American citizen. He has been in Washington for some time trying to straighten out the affair and recently wrote his family as follows:

"One of the questions submitted to me in the final set of papers was: 'Why do you want to become an American citizen?'"

"I wrote in reply: 'Because I have acted like an American citizen for 31 years and don't want to change my habits.'"

TO DARKEN HAIR APPLY SAGE TEA

Look Young! Bring Back Its Natural Color, Gloss and Attractiveness.

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea with sulphur added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Just a few applications will prove a revelation if your hair is fading, streaked or gray. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get a 50-cent bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound at any drug store all ready for use. This is the old time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients.

While wispy, gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared, and, after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant.

This preparation is a delightful toilet requisite and is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

For Better Crops.

The departments of agriculture, state and national, are engaged in trying to induce the farmers to increase the productivity of their farms.

The high value of the food produced should be a strong inducement to increase the quantity by closer and better cultivation of the earth. If it should have this result and increase production permanently the country would get some return for the high prices it is now obliged to pay for a short supply of food.

Our farmers have not yet learned to get out of the land what there is in it. The old wasteful methods of production in vogue when land and food were alike cheap and easily obtained still prevail. If the intensive method of cultivation that obtains in Belgium and other densely populated parts of Europe were employed here even in part there would be no shortage of the food supply.

Seven years ago a Republican Secretary of State tried to have Congress establish the office of Under Secretary—but the highly democratic Democrats reared up and denounced the scheme as a patterning after the effete monarchies of Europe. So, while the job was established, the title given to it was that of Counsellor. Now the Democrats have brought in a bill to change the name of the place to Under Secretary. It is a small matter, perhaps, but taken with all the other Republican notions which Democrats nowadays are adopting, it is worth noting.

An amendment to the sugar bill, offered by Senator Lodge, provided for a tariff on dyestuffs, a measure of legislation which has the approval of Democrats and Republicans alike, outside of Congress. The Democrats voted it down, of course. The dyemakers will have to possess their soul with patience until 1917. This action of the Senate is a pretty certain indication that there will be no attempt on the part of the House Democrats to bring in a protective dyestuffs tariff. The Hill bill will go into the discard for this Congress.

Merchandise left the port of New York April 6th to the value of $15,356,000, for France, Italy, and Great Britain. Of this total, horses, brass, and wheat made up $12,000,000. The remainder was automobiles, chemicals, explosives, etc. And Doctor Pratt denies that our exports are swollen chiefly by war orders.

Current Comments

(Brooklyn Standard-Union)

Protection of American industries by a tariff that takes off the sharp edge of competition with cheap foreign labor may not be one of the leading topics speakers in the next campaign will discuss but it is a matter which will have its proper place in the minds of all voting citizens.

So many industries have suffered under the Democratic tariff and the folly of that law brought home so forcibly to the minds of millions of Americans that no matter how overshadowing the question of preparedness is next fall the tariff will play its part in the contest, even though apparently neglected as an issue. The effects of the Underwood measure have driven many heretofore low tariff men to the belief that this country cannot afford to weaken its commercial protection.

The Republican party still stands for a high tariff as it has stood in the past. The cleavage between that party and the Democrats is so well defined that there can be no confusion. And unless every indication is misleading the country is anxious to restore to power the party which is committed to a commercial barrier that will not keep our workmen at a disadvantage.

Daniel, Woolsey Voorhees 1827-'97.

Daniel W. Voorhees was elected to a congress in 1860. He was re-elected in 1862 and 1864; but although he had a majority of 634 votes in the latter election his election was contested by Henry W. Washburn and congress unseated Voorhees. He later served two more terms in Congress and upon the death of Senator Morton, 1877, was appointed to the United States senate by Governor Williams.

Voorhees was regularly elected United States senator for three successive terms and served until March 4, 1897.

Doubtless his greatest work as senator was done in behalf of the new congressional library. As chairman of the committee he devoted several years to this worthless cause. He was called by his senatorial friends "the father of the library." He died in Washington April 10, 1897.

OTHER POINTS ARE EASY

(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

Berlin, April 27.—President Wilson's demand that German submarines warn freighters as well as passenger liners constitutes the most serious obstacle in the way of a satisfactory settlement of the German-American issue, the United Press learned today from authoritative sources.

Other points at controversy can be settled without danger of a diplomatic break.

Missionaries Urged to Recognize

Washington, April 27.—To do successful missionary work among Hindus, Christians must recognize, for a time at least, the caste system. Sherwood Eddy, noted worker in Oriental fields, told the Men's National Missionary congress here today.

Hindus of one caste will not accept religious advice from another, he said. But if the Christian religion could have sufficient teachers who are members of the lower strata of society, fifty million converts would be obtained in a short time, Eddy predicted.

He had found in China, he said, that the educated classes were the hardest to reach; but that in India, it was the uneducated mass of lower caste Hindu that was hard to get at.

SCHLEY'S OLD CUTTER IS SOLD

After Thirty-Five Years' Service

Coast Guard Thetis is Offered

at Auction.

First Entered Service as a Whaler

of Gen. Greeley.

San Francisco, April 27.—After bucking the ice in most of the seven seas for thirty-five years, the Coast Guard Cutter Thetis is cruising into this port to go into the governmental discard today by public auction.

The European war saved the Thetis from the scrap heap. Steamship men all over the United States await her arrival here. They are to bid for her when the government auctioneer announces:

"One Steamship, gentlemen."

During her service the Thetis has not been a liner and a lady. She started out as a Dundee whaler, a work that requires mainly what sailors call "guts."

The Thetis entered the navy in 1883 when commanded by then Capt. W. S. Schley, she went with two other ships, to rescue Lieut. A. W. Greeley, afterward Major General Greeley, from the Arctic ice. She served as a navy survey on one trip carrying a load of reindeer from Siberia to Alaska.

The fact that she was condemned by the Navy a dozen years ago did not interfere with her efficiency.

Coast Guard men say they would have been lucky two years ago to get $3,000 for her. Now, they say, they expect her to bring $30,000. She is expected to pay for herself on her first trip.

Another Puncture!

It always happens at the most maddening time—just when you want to catch a train or keep some important engagement. And usually it isn't really a puncture at all, but a leaky tube.

Now porous rubber (so-called) and leakage around the valves are among the commonest failings of cheap, machine-made tubes. If you are tired of these needless "punctures" equip your car with Kelly-Springfield Tubes. They are made slowly and painstakingly by hand out of real rubber. They can be punctured, of course, but they won't leak.

If you use Kelly-Springfield Tubes in Kelly-Springfield hand-made, real rubber tires you will add increased mileage to freedom from needless tube trouble.

That's why the tubes and tires we sell are

San Francisco, April 27.—Polo ponies which have won plaudits for their owners on many a speedy turf were exhibited here today in the Second Annual Horse Show.

Society was out in force. As the blue blooded equines pranced around the arena amid a clatter of hand-clapping it was realized that the motor still had a long road to travel before it could shove the horse entirely out of the limelight.

An indoor polo game attracted great attention. One of the principal features of the three day show will be a polo game between teams composed of women.

TO CHILL EGGS FOR SHIPPERS

TWO CARS FROM PURDUE, TOO

Eggs Will be Canded According to Commercial Standards And Grades Displayed

Uncle Sam's special egg candling, packing and chilling demonstration car will leave Manchester on May 5 and is due to arrive in Rushville on May 6 about 9 o'clock. Purdue will exhibit its two poultry cars at the same hours.

At each stop, the specialists with the car have tested, graded, chilled, and packed without charge local eggs for the local shippers.

When the car reaches Rushville it will be located on the Big Four side track. The demonstrations will begin at 8:30 o'clock and continue until 4:30. The car will spend one day in this place.

The Department specialists on this summer tour will give special attention to eggs and their proper preparation for shipment. They will also give information to those especially interested in the most approved methods of dressing, chilling, and packing chickens and turkeys for shipment to the New York and other distant markets. A model showing the construction of a small ice-chilled precooling plant will be exhibited and explained. The purpose is to increase local profits from poultry and eggs, prevent waste, and preserve quality.

Eggs will be canded according to the commercial standards and "fresh," "stale" and "heated" eggs, "bloodings," "white rots," "black rots" and other grades will be exhibited. The demonstration in detecting "white rots" is said to be very important, as many candlers confuse "white rots" with "fresh" eggs. The eggs will then be sorted by market standards of size, cleanliness of shell, and condition of contents.

The eggs can then be put into the refrigerating rooms of the car, where they may be chilled to 40 degrees Fahrenheit in 24 hours. Eggs packed warm in a refrigerator car do not get chilled properly for about five days, during which time they undergo constant deterioration.

The chilled eggs can then be loaded in cars for shipment. The demonstrators will show the most successful ways of using fillers, flats, and baffling, placing and number of nails to the case, and the best way of stowing cases in the cars. A small model car will be loaded in order to show the practical application of straw or wood baffling, bracing the load, placing the cases so that they will be kept cool, and other details of stowing egg cases to prevent damage in transit.

All interested are cordially invited to attend. The car in itself is well worth seeing. The cooling system is operated by its own gasoline engine. The engine also provides electric current so that the refrigerating rooms can be well lighted and night demonstrations can be held. This same car spent last season in southern Indiana. In previous seasons the car was in Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas, Missouri, and Kentucky, and shippers who followed its methods were able to ship turkeys for the Thanksgiving and Christmas trade in New York in such a way that they reached the Eastern markets in prime condition in spite of abnormally warm weather, and what had been unprofitable summer egg businesses were made to pay.

WOMEN BACK OF CLEAN-UP

Iowa Sure of Getting Cleaned as 16,000 Are in Line.

(By United Press.)

Des Moines, Ir., April 27.—Governor Geo. W. Clarke, at the request of the Federated Women's clubs of Iowa, designated the week beginning today as "Clean-up Week" in Iowa. Sixteen thousand women are behind the movement, inspired by devotion to the public welfare.

The governor says "they are anxious to establish higher ideals, better civic standards, better sanitary conditions; to minimize danger from fires, to make homes of the state and their surroundings more inviting and beautiful."

"HELL" HELD NOT TO BE PROFANE

Messages to Congressman Finly

Gray From Richmond Delayed Until Question is Settled

Richmond, Ind., April 27.—When Gen. Sherman made his famous declaration "War is hell," was he profane? The Cincinnati (O.) office of the Western Union Telegraph Company ruled that the word "hell" as used in Sherman's statement was profane, and for a time a rejection of about fifty messages from Richmond German-Americans to Representative Finly H. Gray at Washington, protesting against a possible diplomatic breach with Germany, was in prospect. It was finally decided that "hell" as used by Sherman was probably not a naughty word and that messages containing the declaration could be transmitted without violation of the Federal statutes. The fifty add messages sent from Richmond to Representative Gray all read the same: "Please do all possible to prevent a break with Germany. War is hell."

MRS. MARSHALL IS HONORED

The members of the Thimble Club will be entertained by Mrs. John Frazee at her home in North Main street tomorrow afternoon.

The members of the R. S. C. Club will have their regular meeting on Saturday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kenner. A Shakespeare program will be given by the members.

The entertainment which was to have been given tomorrow evening by Carl Webb's class and Donald Alexander's class of the Main street Christian church has been postponed indefinitely.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Stewart left today for Lafayette where they will be chaperones at the Phi Delta Theta House for the houseparty, their son, Simeon being among the guests. A dance this evening at the fraternity house starts the festivities. Miss Erena Wilk and Miss Ruth Innis are also to be guests at the Phi Delta Theta House.

At the business meeting of Phi Delta Kappa held last evening, twelve members were present. It was decided by the members of the fraternity to give the Commencement dance. A smoker followed the business meeting when mandolin music was furnished by one of the members.

Among those from this city who attended the Commencement of the Arlington high school last evening were Mr. and Mrs. John McCoy and their guests Mrs. Flannegan and daughter, Rose Mary, the Misses Anna Carrol and Kathryn Carrol, Mrs. Charles Caron, Mrs. E. M. Osborn and Mrs. Eva Cressinger.

ENTERTAIN CLUB

The Misses Anna and Mary Rosencrance entertained the members of the G. G. Club last evening at their home. The club is composed of ten young people who spent a delightful evening together playing games.

AFTERNOON OF CARDS

Mrs. Theodore Reed entertained the members of the Bridge Club yesterday afternoon at her home in North Main street, when the ladies spent a delightful time together over the card tables. At the close of the games an elaborate course dinner was served to the twelve guests.

AID SOCIETY

Mrs. Ed Caldwell and Mrs. Mike Coyne were hostesses this afternoon for the members of the Ladies Aid society of the Catholic church, which met at the home of the former. A business session and social good time were the features of the afternoon, for which a good attendance was present.

"500" CLUB

The twelve players in the "500" club were the guests of Miss Minnie Vaught last evening at a regular club meeting. The usual game furnished a delightful evening for the members and light refreshments were served during the course of the affair. Twelve members of the club were present.

PRESBYTERY MEETING

What is believed to be the largest attendance at any Presbytery held in the Whitewater district was the one yesterday at the meeting in Connersville when eighty-five active missionary workers assembled in the First Presbyterian church. All the officers were re-elected for the coming year. Mrs. S. A. Bonner of Greensburg tendered her resignation as president. It was not accepted, however. Lunch and supper were served by the ladies in the church parlors to the visitors. From this city the following ladies attended: Mrs. F. B. Stearns and daughter Miss Anna, Mrs. John Boyd, Mrs. J. T. Arbuckle, Miss Minnie Beale, Mrs. Ruby Petry and Mrs. E. W. Barrington.

It was decided to have the next Presbytery in Lawrenceburg.

GREAT SUCCESS

The members of Dr. Gilbert's class of the Christian church are rightly elated over the success of the penny supper and parcel post sale last evening. In spite of the inclemency of the weather, an immense crowd filled the church basement all during the evening and as a result of the supper and sale of parcels, one hundred and five dollars were taken in and a sum of over ninety dollars was cleared.

AFTERNOON OF SEWING

The members of the Embroidery Club spent this afternoon as the guests of Mrs. Zimmer in West Seventh street, sewing for needy children. Sociability prevailed throughout the affair during which a great deal of profitable work was accomplished. Aside from the club members, there were several invited guests making the guests of Mrs. Zimmer number about seventeen. A tempting salad course was served by the hostess.

WITH MRS. GUFFIN

The members of Mrs. Guffin's Embroidery Club had a pleasant afternoon together at her country home east of the city when they were entertained this afternoon. Flowers of several colors were used in the decorating. Music by the Edison aided in the pleasure of the afternoon during which the ladies engaged in needlework. A delicious repast was served by the hostess.

JUNIOR-SENIOR

Perhaps the most brilliant affair of the year for the Raleigh high school was the reception given Tuesday evening by the Junior class for the Senior class at the home of Melvin Cole, northeast of Raleigh. Very appropriate decorations were used, bringing out the colors of the high school and the two classes entertained. Strands of black and orange the Senior class colors were used in the parlor of the pretty country home; the Junior class was honored with their class colors, purple and gold, being tastefully used in the sitting room; and red and white, the high school colors, were used in transforming the dining room, where the guests were served, into a pretty bower. During the course of the evening, two lively contests amused the guests. In the first a conundrum contest, Orval Morgan proved to be the winner, and in another, where the names of parts of an automobile filled in the sentences, Miss Marie Seegers and Aaron Laughlin were experts. The dainty two course luncheon which was served in the dining room included chicken sandwiches, perfection salad, brick ice cream and angel food cake. Forty-five guests were present, the inclemency of the weather preventing the other fifteen who were invited from being present.

LOCAL WOMAN PRESIDENT

Mrs. Guy Abercrombie of this city was elected district chairman to succeed Mrs. T. Benton Henley of Carthage at the Federation of Clubs which closed at Shelbyville yesterday. Mrs. Abercrombie was county chairman here when the federation was entertained by the Rush county clubs last year. It was also decided to hold the tenth annual federation, next year, in Connersville. Other officers elected were vice-chairman, Mrs. Maud New of Greenfield and secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Willard Petro of Cambridge City.

Music at the meeting yesterday morning was furnished by Miss Hester Porter and Miss Margaret Birely, both of whom are known in this city. Reports of different departments were given by Mrs. R. M. Hicks, of Cambridge City, Mrs. H. W. Saxon of Greenwood, Mrs. A. W. Roach of Greenwood, Mrs. Guy Abercrombie of this city, and Mrs. Paul Comstock of Richmond. One of the most interesting features of the meetings yesterday was the question conducted by Mrs. T. Benton Henley. The guests at the federation numbered about 150, representing clubs in all parts of the sixth district. Among the visitors from here were; Mrs. Louis Lambert, Mrs. Ione Abercrombie, Mrs. A. L. Aldridge, Mrs. Lenore Blackledge, Mrs. Guy Gordon, Miss Jennie Madden, Miss Lenora Norris, Mrs. C. M. George, and Mrs. J. T. Paxton.

NEW YORK FASHION NOTES

BY MARGARET MASON.
(Written for United Press.)

To have all things harmonious. As much as she was able, in home and dress and everything, essayed aesthetic Mabel. And so they'd be in rhythm with her nifty garden smocks. The sole blooms in her garden were Stocks, Hollyhocks and phlox.

New York, April 27.—When you stand in the midst of your garden, whether it be a sunken Italian one or a raised window box, do you want to look the fairest flower of the lot?

If you do, it's very simple, Maud. All you need is a smock of becoming hue, a wide floppy straw hat and one of those fascinating garden baskets raised on a long wicker stick.

All your zinnias, gladiolas, begonias and cannas will simply droop their heads in the face of such a ravishing combination.

Surely Maud Muller must have been thus attired when her Judge lingered a bit ere he rode by. Most any good judge nowadays would do the same.

Beginning at the top the crowning glory of the garden outfit is the hat; and its only essentials are that it be big, floppy and becoming.

Those of the cane chair seat weave are smart, bound in a color to match your smock, with a twist of the same around the crown. Peanut straw, leghorns, panamas and loose grass women hats are all lovely; and wide brimmed ones covered in flowered cretonne or awning stripes to match your skirt also are good. If you want to go in for Oriental gardening the artistic Coolie hats are perfect, but if you top yourself off thus you will have to taboo the smock and awning stripe skirt, for garments modeled after a Chinese woman's coat and skirt. Otherwise your outfit would not be in perfect accord according to aesthetic Mabel. These Chinese effects really are the very newest Spring crop of gardening gear and most original.

The awning stripe skirts this season are not only the broad stripes of a bright color alternating with white, like we had last year, but reveal in a riotous array of colored stripes in four or five hectic hues, like a Bakst ballet. They all are very short and full and button down the front with either yawning slashed pockets set in either side, or puffy pouched ones set on.

The artistic willow baskets set on their long sticks come in either natural coloring or may be stained to suit. They contain of course the most fascinating collection of gardening tools; a trowel whose handle is gay with paint, a pair of shears and your garden gloves.

Adorable watering pots blooming with hand painted nosegays, and

rakes with well decorated handles are a few other indispensable accessories of the fashionable garden.

Oh yes, and there are quaint and practical garden aprons too, the best model of which are the newest, is of striped material bound in a plain color with a bib and straps over the shoulders.

It is long so that you may stoop in the wet grass without dampening your skirt or your ardor and yet at will it buttons up to a desirable shortness and by this act turns itself into a capacious pocket.

So open up your garden gate Besmoke yourself all up to date And seeds of love will quickly grow In hearts of all who see you so and sow.

Noley Newkirk, Dick Smith and Errol Stoops motored to Knights-town last evening and attended the dedication of the new home which the Knights of Pythias have recently build there.

The funeral services of Roger Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Miller, who died yesterday, will be held at the residence Friday afternoon at two o'clock and will be private.

* PUT HOT TEA POT
* AND DID A SALUTE *
* UNDER HIS ARM *

(By United Press.)

London, April 27.—Admiral Lord Charles Beresford is the butt of considerable chaff just now over an incident which occurred at the tea party tendered by the King and Queen to wounded soldiers at Buckingham Palace.

Lord Charles was present to aid the naval table tea pouring. He is quite absent minded.

Lord Charles, resplendent in his Admiral's uniform, hastily tucked the tea pot under his arm and stood at rigid salute.

Certain "jackies" laughed, but Lord Charles didn't.

Eggs May Be Preserved By Freezing Out Of The Shell Or By Drying Them

The frozen and dried egg industry, declares a new publication of the Department of Agriculture, is a permanent one because it meets a distinct economic need. Many eggs which could not stand long shipments may be preserved as whole-some food by freezing them out of the shell or by drying. In the beginning, however, there was a natural popular prejudice against the business, which was increased by the ignorance and carelessness of some of the pioneers. It was under these conditions that the Department of Agriculture undertook a study of the problem in order to lay the ground-work for a scientific preparation of an extremely perishable product. Some of the results of this study have just been published in a professional paper, Bulletin No. 224, A Study of the Preparation of Frozen and Dried Eggs in the Producing Section.

The eggs commonly used by reputable firms for breaking are small or oversized eggs and dirty, cracked, or shrunken eggs. To the trade these are known as "seconds." They are not to be confused with eggs that are unfit for human use, such as the classes known as black, white, mixed and sour rots, green whites, eggs with stuck yolks, musty and moldy eggs, blood rings, etc. These should be rejected entirely or else used for tanning purposes only. Eggs with a bad odor should be rejected absolutely.

Careful candling before the eggs go to the breaking room is one of the principal points upon the importance of which the new bulletin recommends some system by which the work of individual candlers may be checked. Eggs that it is found difficult to grade should be set aside by the regular candlers for examination by an expert. Furthermore the eggs should be graded again when out of the shell, for certain kinds of infection can only be de-

While it is desirable, from a financial standpoint, that the breakers should work with rapidity, too much speed is not to be desired because of the danger that unfit eggs may be included with good ones before the breaker can detect the difference. When that happens, no attempt should be made to save the good eggs. In practice, it was found that in order to prevent waste and to insure good grading, no more than three eggs should be broken into a cup before it is emptied. It was also found that from twelve to sixteen eggs a minute is as rapid work as can be done satisfactorily. Even this is not possible if the breakers are permitted to talk or their attention is distracted from their work in other ways.

It emphasizes the necessity for separate rooms for chilling, candling, breaking, freezing and drying the eggs. Each should be maintained at a definite temperature by artificial refrigeration. A room for washing and sterilizing the utensils should adjoin the breaking room. When a bad egg is found, all apparatus contaminated by it must be exchanged for clean, and the hands of the operator washed before beginning work again.

The production of frozen and dried eggs, it is said, is primarily an industry for the egg-producing sections. Many eggs that now reach the large consuming markets in a totally unfit condition could be saved and a large portion of the annual waste eliminated if they were treated in time.

TIPPECANOE IS TO BE REFOUGHT

Celebrated Battle of Indiana History Will be Staged on the Original Battleground.

Few Have Been in Real War, But They Have Volunteered to Show Their Hoosier Pride.

Lafayette, Ind., April 27.—The battle of Tippecanoe is to be refought this week, on the original battleground. The Prophet, Shawnee Indian medicine man has incited his warriors to attack the white settlers. General William Henry Harrison is ready with his 910 soldiers to give battle and show the Redskins that the United States government does not stand for depredations on its white settlers.

In addition, the "movie men" and "war" correspondents are here to do the matter justice. It will be the first battle ever fought in Indiana since the motion picture became a reality and the opportunity is not to be lost.

Everybody here is excited. The "soldiers," many of them students from Purdue University, have never been in a real war before. They, however, have volunteered to fight for their country and show their Hoosier pride, for they have been told that their movements are to be recorded for the benefit of Indiana's centennial year. The scene which is but a part of the 7,000-foot spectacular production showing Indiana history from the time of LaSalle's advent to the Spanish American war will be shown in every county in Ind. Historical centennial film.

General William Henry Harrison, civil as well as military head of Indian Territory in 1811, when the battle of Tippecanoe was staged, will be forced to take his orders from Frank Beal, "movie" director. He must "register determination" whether he is exactly in that mood or not.

Visitors from all over the state are expected to be here, for the event. Several members of the Indiana Historical Commission who recently "acted" for the film on the steps of the Soldiers and Sailors monument at Indianapolis, will be here to see if the professional movie stars have "anything on them."

All of the big character parts are to be taken care of by experienced actors in the employ of the Selig Polyscope Company, which is staging and photographing the production for the Interstate company.

In addition to the staging of the battle of Tippecanoe, the burning of Prophetstown is to be reproduced. This scene will be staged immediately after the battle, in which the Redskins, under the leadership of The Prophet, are defeated.

The scene showing The Prophet inciting the Indians to make war on the whites will not be overlooked. The Prophet will be seen standing on "Prophets Rock" making a speech. In this speech, history states that the Indian told his followers that the bullets of Harrison's men would do them no harm and that they (the Indians) would "mow down the whites like wheat under the scythe." Thus incited by their leaders the Indians start a war dance and then fare forth to attack the whites. This scene will be staged with all the elaborateness of detail. The facial expressions of the Indians, who believed the raise Pro-

During the scenes to be taken here some of the biggest and most famous men in the history of Indiana will appear. Among them will be Major Hamilton Daviess, after whom Daviess county was named. It was in this stage of Indiana history that John Tipton, at that time Ensign Tipton, made his appearance. Later, when a General, Tipton purchased the site of the battle of Tippecanoe and gave it to the state to be used as a park.

It was in the battle of Tippecanoe that William Henry Harrison, who afterwards became President of the United States, became a national figure.

Another figure, familiar in Indiana history, who is introduced in the picture at this time is Tecumseh, brother of The Prophet. Historians generally agree that Tecumseh was the wiser of the two brothers. He had foresight enough to know that General Harrison would defeat the Indians if they attacked him at the time the battle really took place. He was not a participant in the battle, having left for the South to secure reinforcements, when his brother (The Prophet) disobeyed his orders and exhorted the Indians to battle.

FAMOUS STABLE OF HUNTERS SOLD

War Hits Sir Adam Beck and he is Forced to Sell His Prize Winning Horses.

ELEVEN HEAD ARE OFFERED

(By United Press.) New York, April 27.—Because the war has made it impossible for him and Lady Beck to keep up their annual hunts that have made them world-famous in sportdom society, Sir Adam Beck of London, Ontario today is selling all his prize winning hunters at auction here.

The sale will include eleven hunters, several of whom were winners at the last international Horse Show in England. In the list are Hampton, Zanetta, Sir Edward, Hydro, Monarch, Shelia, Loudersborough, Harkaway, Santos, Sovereign and Milton, all well known performers in the field as well as in the show ring.

Lady Beck, the wife of Sir Adam Beck, will be remembered as one of the judges of saddle horses at the last National Horse Show in New York. The Becks have been accustomed to hunting in England each winter, but the war has interfered with their arrangements. Not since the sale of the hunting stable of Sir Clifford Sifton, of Ottawa, Ontario, about a year ago, have so many noted hunting horses been offered at public auction.

TODAY'S ODDEST STORY.

Riverside, Cal., April 27.—A party of sportsmen left here today for the Southern reaches of the San Jacinto mountains to hunt American camels. E. C. Beach, a prospector, brought the story that a drove of fifteen camels was seen within a few miles of Salton Sea, at the base of the San Jacintos. The Camels were introduced for desert travel more than half a century ago, and when the venture was given up the animals were left to shift for themselves.

SALE EXPECTED TO AID WAR FUND

Russian Collection of Old Masters Offered to Help Swell Czar's Relief Fund.

SET VALUED AT $100,000

Owner Finds That Works of Art Sell Better Here Than They do on Continent.

(By United Press.)

New York, April 27.—A collection of old masters that once belonged to Prince Golinicheff-Koutousoff, personal secretary to the Dowager Empress Marie Feodorovna, Winter Palace, Petrograd is to be sold at the Plaza here today.

The collection is valued at hundreds of thousands of dollars.

Mr. Nicolas Riabouchinsky, of Moscow, a wealthy man, bought the collection of Prince Golinicheff-Koutousoff. Mr. Riabouchinsky is in New York in the service of his country in matters connected with the purchase of war supplies.

He has discovered that in this land of Bethlehem, U. S., Crucible and other "war brides," works of art sell at much higher prices than they do on the Continent. That is why the former Golinicheff-Koutousoff collection of paintings will be placed on sale.

Mr. Riabouchinsky's collection is catalogued as containing old masters "of the Northern and Southern schools"—that is, paintings by masters of the Low Countries and Germany, and by those of France and Italy.

The Fleming Hugo van der Goes, is represented in the catalogue by an altar panel, "Flight Into Egypt," and there is another panel by the Flemish artist Gerard van der Meere.

There are more than 600 items in the collection. Several Van Ducks are included.

Right Shoes

A man or woman should exercise the same care in selecting a pair of shoes that they would in buying a house. For they live in both! There's no earthly use in a person wearing an ill-fitting uncomfortable, poor looking, unsatisfactory pair of shoes. And you won't if you buy them of us. They are exactly right in style and in construction. They bring customers back who want "NONE BUT THE BEST."

VEGETABLE CALOMEL

Vegetable calomel, extract of the root of the old-fashioned may-apple plant, does not salivate. As a liver stimulant, it's great. It's a perfect substitute for ordinary calomel (mercury); in fact, it's better, because its action is gentle instead of severe and irritating—and it leaves no mean, disagreeable after-effects. Physicians recognize this and prescribe may-apple root (podoophyllin, they call it) daily.

Combined with four other standard, all-vegetable remedies, may-apple root may now be had at most any druggist's in convenient sugar-coated tablet form by asking for Sentanel Laxatives. If you forget the name, ask for the box that has the picture of the soldier on it.

These tablets are small, easy to take and are really wonderful little performers.

They quickly clean out the poisons that are causing you headache, constipation, sour stomach, biliousness, dizzy spells, bad breath and coated tongue.

They are mild. They never gripe. And they are a bowel tonic as well as a cleanser and liver regulator. A 10c box should last one several weeks. A Physician's trial package (4 doses) will be mailed you free if you write mentioning this advertisement. The Sentanel Remedies Co., 802 Madison Ave., Covington, Ky.

TRUSTEE CAN FIX SCHOOL LOCATION

Appellate Court Hands Down a Decision That of is of Help to be Important.

CASE IN HANCOCK COUNTY

Taxpayers Lose Suit to Enjoin Trustee From Selling Bonds to Erect Building.

That a township trustee has authority under the Indiana school law to arbitrarily fix the location of any school building, is the decision just handed down by the Indiana appellate court and is of interest in this county.

Taxpayers in Back Creek township, Hancock county, brought suit to enjoin the trustee from selling bonds which were issued for the purpose of erecting a new school building. The case was venued to Shelby county and the circuit judge after hearing the evidence held that the trustee had the right to determine the location of a school building. An appeal was taken with the result that the decision was affirmed.

The appellate court says that the Indiana law gives the trustee the schools, under his jurisdiction.

The appellate court said: "Appellants (the taxpayer plaintiffs) apparently with much feeling, argue that if school officers at will may expend large sums of money, as here attempted, that the way is clear to a dissipation of public funds without the sanction or approval of the taxpayers. This would be a weighty argument to address to the law-making body of the state if there is a lack of restraint upon public officers who have the handling and expenditure of public funds, as officers possessed with authority to expend public funds should do so economically, keeping in view the necessity for so doing, but relief in this respect can not come through the courts."

The court considered the statutes governing the establishment and the change of location of schoolhouses, and held that prior to 1893 the trustee had authority to decide the location of any schoolhouse without in any manner consulting the patrons of the school. Although a statute then enacted was worded to embrace "any school" under his control, the court said, it was enacted before the time when township high schools were authorized, and showed that by decisions of the court it has been construed to be addressed to the control over district schools, and not to prevent the trustee from acting without consulting the patrons of high schools, in the change of such school's location.

In the case decided it was shown that a joint district and high school was established in district No. 5 in the township, and $5,000 was expended in addition to the amount that would have been necessary to equip it for a district school only. On a petition signed only by a majority of the patrons of the district and the trustees, an order was obtained from the county superintendent of schools for a change of the location of both the district and the high school. A contract was made for building a high school and district school at a cost of $34,479.90, and bonds were issued for carrying on the work, it was shown. The complaint sought to restrain the trustee from selling the bonds and going ahead with the work. The court held that there were no allegations in the complaint that a majority of the patrons of the school were opposed to the new location of the school, and the building of the new schoolhouse, nor that it was against the best interests of the township. The complaint, the court held, was based on the alleged lack of the authority of the trustee, and the appellate court affirmed the judgment on the ground that the trustee had the authority, and that the statutes restricting his authority as to the change of the location of a district school did not apply to the change of the location of a township high school.

Dr. J. N. Hurty Says Work to Increase Food Supply Will be Fruitless on One Condition.

Declares There is Proportionately More Sickness Among Farmers Than City Dwellers.

Indianapolis, Ind., April 27.—In discussing plans for the state health officers' school to be held here May 2 and 3, under the direction of the state board of health, Dr. J. N. Hurty, secretary of the state board, asserted that the efforts being made to increase the food supply would be of little avail as long as the country continued to neglect the business of public health. The school will have for its motto "The most important business before the business man today, in the business of public health."

Dr. Hurty said there was more sickness among the farmers today than among the city dwellers in proportion to numbers. This, he said, was due almost entirely to poor food, he explained, he meant an unbalanced diet, lacking chiefly in nitrogen.

Fat meat, corn bread, wheat bread, molasses, cream gravy, potatoes and coffee, constitute the food of most farmers, according to the state official, who added that each article of food, in itself, was good, but that all taken together they were bad because they did not give the body enough of some of the necessary elements and too much of others.

Dr. Hurty explained that poor food was responsible for the lack-luster eyes, putty complexion and slothful demeanor of country children, which he said were to be found in the majority in a drive about the country. Dr. Hurty declared that an officer of the United States Public Health Service, who inspected a number of schools in Indiana, found that in one school of 21 pupils, every one was underfed.

An Inside Bath Makes You Look and Feel Fresh

Says a glass of hot water with phosphate before breakfast
keeps illness away.

This excellent, common-sense health measure being adopted by millions.

Physicians the world over recommend the inside bath, claiming this is of vastly more importance than outside cleanliness, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into
the blood, causing ill health, while the pores in the ten yards of bowels do.
Men and women are urged to drink each morning, before breakfast a glass of hot water, with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, as a harmless means of helping to wash from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels the previous day's indigestible
material, poisons, sour bile and toxins;
thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

Just as soap and hot water cleanse and freshen the skin, so hot water and limestone phosphate act on the elimi-
native organs.

Those who wake up with bad breath,
coated tongue, nasty taste or have a dull, aching head, sallow complexion, acid stomach; others who are subject
to bilious attacks or constipation, should obtain a quarter pound of limestone phosphate at the drug store.
This will cost very little but is sufficient to demonstrate the value of inside bathing. Those who continue it each morning are assured of pronounced results, both in regard to health and appearance.

Presents Vision Of Europe In Reconstruction After The War

* Editor's Note:—The following * article, written at the sugges* tion of the United Press, out* lines post-war conditions in * England, as seen by Mr. Henry
* Gordon Selfridge, the Ameri* can who introduced the Ameri* can department store and Am* erican business methods into
* London trade with enormous * financial success. Mr. Selfridge * long has been a student of in* ternational and European com* mercial economies.

By HENRY GORDON SELFTRIDGE
London, April 11.—(By Mail)— Europe will rise rapidly from the ashes of war.

Demobilizing the great armies, restarting the machinery and collecting the threads of commerce will take time, but the spirit of revival will be much greater than ever before.

The belligerent nations' enormous
new machinery for making munitions will, mostly, be adapted to developing various manufacturers.
This will be a great asset.

I question whether labor will ever permit a return of the pre-war scale wages in England, France or Germany. I think the standard of labor has been permanently raised throughout Europe. I am very glad of it.

Tremendous impetus has been given to female labor. European women have for years wanted a larger place in the commercial world. They have it.

These women never again will occupy dull, uninteresting places in the home. This will increase the supply. The European labor supply at

I think increased production will employ part of this increased supply. The European labor supply at the beginning of the war was greater than the demand. This was the reason for the low wages.

Still I think I am right that wages are permanently raised. I think they will be raised by the power of the Trade Unions.

Europe will, after the war, no matter if it lasts two years more,
have enough money to do business.

Those who have been living on the interest of their money will suffer most. The rich man who is active can afford to lose his money because he is continually getting more. It has been the custom for a man to retire from or never enter business, just living upon his small or large income, and seeking a peerage or baronetcy. Now he will find it wise and inviting to become a business man who helps produce.

I think Society, so often snobbish
and unintelligent in big affairs, will break off the barnacles of the mid-Victorian period and again look upon work, trade and commerce as praiseworthy rather than pitiable.

England has many beautiful estates with much idle ground. A great many of these estates will be sold because the owners cannot afford to hold them. Thus, much land heretofore idle will become agricultural ground, used in the real interests of life.

Many young men who had uninteresting posts have joined the army and got a taste of fresh air and sunshine which they will have difficulty in forgetting. Those posts now must be made attractive and remunerative. Probably a large number of these young men will turn to newer countries: Canada, Australia, South Africa.

The United States will get her large shares, but Europe will strive to keep the best men.

I don't believe the young man whose head is full of brains and
whose body is full of good red blood will be content to continue on the old, somewhat feudal basis which existed in parts of this portion of the world before the war.

England is recognizing for the first time in 50 years that Commerce
is the most necessary branch of activity in building up the State.

I think the terms of final settlement of this war will have much to do with possible trading among themselves of the nations now at war.

Many people feel that the public never again will buy a German made article. Others feel that trading again must begin between Germany and Great Britain after the settlement, to a greater or lesser extent depending on the manner in which the final Treaty is drawn.

England may adopt a protective tariff, taking the matter out of politics. Before the war, the issue of protection was nearly dead, but with the new industries springing up there will be a feeling that they should be, at least for a period, protected from lower period continental labor.

America could manufacture for
the European market but has not during the last year and a half manifested any great desire to do it, or taken any serious steps toward it, with a few exceptions.

America has not yet quite learned the science of export business. It is difficult for a commercial community to develop the intricate export business where the elements of trading are unfamiliar.

Great Britain certainly will make herself a greater export nation after the war than she was before.
Much of the old spirit of "let-well-enough-alone," and getting enough to live on and then getting out of business will have evaporated.

(Issued by the Indiana Historical commission.)

Getting Ready For Company.

Spring, coy and hesitating, flirting outrageously with everybody and everything in sight, but coming nevertheless. It is the gladsome smelly time of the year; gladsome with glinting sunshine, singing birds and shooting verdure; smelly with fresh paint, the festive spray pump and burning trash heaps. But the smelliness is just as essential as the gladsomeness thereof, and especially so in the year 1916.

Indiana should be getting such a cleaning up these days as will make the State fairly shine with cleanliness, from the heart of the capital city to the fence row of the farthest county. The work should be undertaken by all official and civic bodies
and by individuals as well. The thousands upon thousands of visitors who will throng the state this year will judge us by the general appearance of town and countryside as well as by the Centennial programs
with which we shall entertain them.
So get out the old rake, place the lawn mower in a state of preparedness, spade up the flower beds, get
action on the peaceful pruning hook,
and soften up the paint brush. These implements of the arts of peace
must figure prominently and immediately in our Centennial preparations.

Moving Camera in Action.

Actual work of taking pictures
for the Indiana history film was begun Friday when Director Frank Beal and a corps of assistants began operations at the Capital. Pictures were taken at the State House,
and the Soldiers' and Sailors' Monument and other points of interest in and around Indianapolis were also
"filmed." While suggestions from Hoosiers in all parts of the State have been pouring in relative to a suitable title for history film no selection has yet been made and there is still time for those of an inventive turn of mind to score. The sum twenty-five dollars has been offered to the persons submitting the idea
table.

Trembling and Weak Knees.

So confident is the Ft. Wayne Centennial Finance Committee that there will be money in the treasury
after all expenses of their big June Centennial celebration have been met, that plans are already under way for using the surplus in behalf of a Ft. Wayne Convention Hall fund. The fine spirit of faith and
"get there" thus manifested is commended to the doubting and the terrified.

George Ade Booklet.

The much heralded Home Coming

der the auspices of the Indiana Historical Commission is being published by the Bobbs-Merrill Company and is now in press. Watch for Chic Jackson's ensemble of the Bean family, which will promptly place

the book upon the shelf of the six best sellers.

A Music Tournament.

Garrett is planning ambitiously for a Centennial celebration to be held on May 5. A unique feature will be a music fest and tournament partici-

Hits His Buggy

Buggy is Upset

Three men were hurt in accidents
while riding in buggies near Glenwood last night, none of them being
likely to result fatally.

farmer of Union township, is in a serious condition as a result of an accident last night east of Glen-
wood. The buggy in which Mr. Wilson was driving was accidentally hit
by the automobile driven by Edward Murphy. Mr. Wilson sustained two
broken ribs and numerous cuts and
bruises about the head and body
when he was thrown from the buggy.

Fifteen stitches were taken and
while no serious results are expected
Mr. Wilson will feel the effects of the accident for some time. Mr. Wilson was driving towards Glenwood
and Murphy was going in the opposite direction. Mr. Murphy has
the reputation of being a careful
driver and could hardly explain how
he happened to hit the buggy.

Frank Crist and Ross Wiles of Orange were painfully hurt last night when the buggy in which they
riding upset in a ditch. The accident occurred just south of Glenwood. The horse frightened at a passing automobile, but did not attempt to run off after the buggy upset.

Mr. Crist was the worse hurt of the two. A radial artery in his wrist
was severed and the flow of blood
was stopped with great difficulty. He
was removed to the office of Dr.
Walther in Glenwood. A total of seven stitches were taken to close the wound. Mr. Wiles was cut about
the legs.

The little son of Mr. Crist, who was with them, escaped injury

HAS THREE THINGS TO BE CONSIDERED

County Board of Education Will Elect Truant Officer And Pick Educational Day Date

TO REPORT SCHOOL COUNT

The county board of education, composed of the township trustees
will hold an important meeting Monday. It is expected that the date will be selected for the educational day exercises. It will be the regular monthly meeting of the board.

In addition to this the attendance
officer for the ensuing year will be elected. So far there is no opposition to James Miller, the present of-
re-elected.

The report of the school enumeration is also due on this day, but it is not expected that all of the trustees will be ready to report.

Treasurer's Office Expects Rush
From Now Until Monday

Taxes collected yesterday
amounted to $22,709. The treasurer's office is now ready for the final
rush and starting tonight the office
will be open until nine o'clock at night until the closing night, Mon-
day. The office will close at five o'clock in the afternoon and will open again at seven o'clock. Because of the large amount of money yet to be collected the final days
of the taxpaying season are ex-

WAGONS TO CALL EARLY IN WEEK

PEOPLE ASKED TO BE READY

The city wagons will start making the rounds Monday, the first day
of clean-up week. It was at first planned to make the rounds later in the week, but the street commissioner has found that there is a shortage in teams and he would like to
possible.

People who expect the city to help them in the clean-up are urged
to get their trash ready at the earliest possible moment. Will Havens, street commissioner, said today that the city wagons would start Monday morning and was anxious
that as much trash as possible be in place for the wagons. The wagons
tire city is gone over.

COMMENCEMENTS HELD LAST NIGHT

lington High School And

BOTH ADDRESSES ARE FINE

Two commencements were held in Rush county last night, one at Arlington and the other at Raleigh.

Five girls and four boys received diplomas at Arlington and the class address was delivered by Ray C.
Ballard of Lewisville. The commencement address was pronounced
one of the best heard in Rush coun-
the Misses Della Hungerford, Emma Posey, May Gardner, Mary Mc-Coy, and Effie Offutt and Omar Mc-Kibben, Tom Saunders, Arthur Con-
oway, and Everard Johnson. Supt.
George presented the diplomas.

Three boys and one girl were
graduated from the Raleigh high school as follows: Miss Clara Hiner Layon Hall, Dwight Brooks, and Fay Whitton. The Rev. Charles
Whitman of Liberty delivered the
class address and the exercises were held in the Raleigh hall. The diplomas were presented by A. L. Gary.

TO TALK OILING AND WATER RATE

Means of Raising Money

Remonstrances Will be Received
Expected to Stick

council Friday night promises to be one of importance. At this meeting
remonstrance will be heard on the proposed street oiling. Already several remonstrances have been filed
and action of the council is watched
with interest. In addition to this the
of the Public Service Commission
granting the city an increase in water rates.

The council is expected to discuss ways and means of paying the money to be rebated for water met-
ers. Under the ruling of the commission the city is prohibited from
charging for meters of for the work of installation. The ruling of the commission does not state that
the order just as good as says it is unlawful to make this charge and
the city will refund the money.

The amount invested in water meters $12,000 and $13,000. To repay this amount will hit the city
hard, but there is nothing else to do
from all indications. The question will undoubtedly be settled by the
council tomorrow night.

It is likely that a bond issue will be made to meet the amount to be re-
funded. Some of the city officials believe that a bond issue is better than borrowing the money. Some people, thinking the city was ready
to refund the money, have already
that this is not necessary. At this early a date as they will be given plenty of time to file the claims. The
council will first make the necessary
appropriations and provisions for
meeting the issue.

The street oiling is likely to go through as in years past. Many of
the remonstrances filed cover only
parts of streets and the council in
entire street must be acted upon.
The council has held that parts of
streets cannot be eliminated from
the oiling by remonstrance. In the original resolution each street was
named for the entire length and the
city holds that since this is the case
a remonstrance against any part of

School Children on Speaking Terms
With Most of Them Since Contests Were Announced

Promiscuously by Pupils Trying for Prizes

Chances are that all of the school children in Rushville will be on speaking terms with all of the bird
family in Rushville. Part of the school kids know all the birds by
their first name now and all of the
kids are acquainted with a part of
the birds, but whether all of the
pupils will be close acquaintances of
all the birds by the time the annual meeting of the Audubon society and the Nature Study club meet under way here tonight is another question.

At any rate, it is a safe venture
public schools have learned more
a long and useful life, by reason of
the fact that the two state societies
selected Rushville for their meeting place this year.

The approaching meetings has
aroused interest in the public schools, largely because of the contests for school children. There is one in which prizes are offered for
ter, if she is agile enough—who
places the greatest number of bird boxes in the city block in which he lives.

Early reports are that all of the
scrap lumber in some districts of the city has been used up and father's hatchet and mother's kitchen knife have been dulled almost beyond the point of sharpening.

It is stated upon good authority
that one school boy thinks he has
the first prize clinched because he
had twenty-seven bird houses in his
block. Some other boys are going to cause him to have some more
mashed fingers and blistered hands
before they allow him to "take home
the bacon."

The interest of the school children
has been aroused, but the school
authorities would like to have the
grownups of Rushville also display
some interest and show that they
are pleased to be so honored by having present members of the two distinctly unique societies.

The night meetings tonight and Friday evening offer especially attractive programs and are open to the general public. The best authorities on bird life in the United States will speak at these meetings. There will be something of interest for
the members of the society all day
tomorrow and Saturday morning.

Friday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock
there will be a business meeting at
the Windsor hotel and at two o'clock
of the same afternoon the members of the Audubon society and the Nature Study Club will assemble at the Graham Annex for a "hike" which will take them up along the mill race
bank.

The last ceremony of the meeting
will be the raising of the $15.00
Martin house at the Graham Annex
school ground. The programs state that thanks is due the Charles E.
Francis company of this city for the fire pole on which the house will be raised. W. E. Wilson, the builder of the Martin house, will be present
to superintendent the raising. Mr.
Wilson and his wife gave the Martin house for this demonstration.

All night programs will take place
in the Graham Annex auditorium.
The program for this evening follows:

GUARDS DRIVE OFF SNIPERS

(By United Press.)

Columbus, N. M., April 27.—Four
Mexican prisoners at Casas Grandes are reported today to have been killed by United States sentries on attempting to escape. Scores of Vil-listas captured are said to be held
at various points along the American communication lines. Much valuable information has been obtained from them.

Two Mexicans wounded in an attack on a supply train near Satevo
recently were captured, according
to motor truck guards who arrived today.

Twenty Mexicans ambushed the train at night. The guards sought
cover behind the steel wheels of
their trucks and beat off the snipers

Under Explicit Instructions to

American Demands

(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

Berlin, Apr. 27.—The crisis of the German-American situation resulting from the submarine controversy
has virtually passed. There will be no rupture of diplomatic relations from developments to date. The United Press is able to make this statement today on most excellent authority.

Pending negotiations for a more complete understanding, German submarine commanders will be under explicit instructions which will prevent repetition of acts complained of while negotiations are pending.

The high point of danger was
reached and passed two days ago
when the foreign office was informed of the attitude of President Wilson.

ago has changed from one of eager
expectancy as to just what form the settlement will take. The formal reply to Washington will be delayed
from Ambassador Bernstorff.

Ambassador Gerard will leave
for grand army headquarters tonight for a conference with the kaiser.

Chancellor Von Bethmann-Holl-
weg, who is now with the kaiser, is expected to return to Berlin tomorrow to prepare the reply to the American note.

A momentous conference, with
the continuance of friendly relations between the United States and Germany in the balance, was in progress today at grand army headquarters.

The kaiser received the views of Chancellor Hollweg, General Falken-
hayn, chief of the general staff of the army, and Admiral Von Holtzendorff, chief of the admiralty staff.
He lacked only further work from Washington, expected through Ambassador Gerard before many hours,
defining more accurately the American submarine demands.

It is the general understanding
here that Germany will not meet
fully President Wilson's demand in
the reply to be forwarded to Washington early next week. How far Germany will go no one pretends to
know, but well informed Berlin
newspapers believe the German con-
diplomatic break.

Washington, April 27.—Germany's answer to the United States submarine demands will not reach Washington until the end of next week, according to private Berlin advice reaching here today.

A large paint manufacturer asked this question
of retailers throughout the country:

NO. 9 SAID:

"I think newspaper publicity
a necessity to get the best possible results from an advertising campaign.

"It not only brings customers
to the store, but when we solicit business it is much easier to sell a paint that has been advertised
locally than one people have
never heard of. I think it is money well spent."

Senator Hustling of Wisconsin Shows Similarity of Telegrams Reaching Congress

WRITERS HAVE INSIDE NEWS

(By United Press.) Washington, April 27.—Proof that the bushels of peace telegrams which today continued to overwhelm congress are from a single inspired source was submitted on the senate floor this afternoon by Senator Hustling of Wisconsin.

He collected messages from a half dozen states showing all the contexts followed a dozen or so forms although the writers were hundreds of miles apart. He broadly insinuated that German money paid the bills.

"These plotters," he said, "have filled the people with the fear that their president and congress are trying to get us into war I say without qualification that thus we face a worse danger within our republic than we do from foreign foes."

"Who paid for these telegrams, and who furnished the writers with their inside information? They pretend to know what Germany's reply will be."

BLACK DEFEATED FOR STATISTICIAN

Former Rushville Mayor Receives 174 1/2 Votes on First Ballot And Stays Until Nomination

OTHER DEMOCRATS NAMED

S. W. Kahn of Ligonier was nominated state statistician over a field of six candidates, one of which was B. A. Black of this city, at the closing session of the Democratic state convention in Indianapolis late yesterday afternoon. Thomas W. Brolley, the present state statistician, was thought to have the inside track. Mr. Black received 174 1/2 votes on the first ballot and on the third Brolley and Richard Beer of Osgood withdrew, on that ballot Mr. Black received 68 votes. Kahn got 820, enough to nominate him.

In the other contests not mentioned yesterday in the Daily Republic John C. McNutt of Marion was nominated for appellate judge of the southern district over Corwin of Bloomington, to fill the vacancy caused by the appointment of Judge Joseph H. Shea of Seymour to a diplomatic post. Samuel L. Scott of New Albany was nominated for superintendent of public instruction. Daniel C. McIntosh of Worthington was the other candidate. Douglas Morris of this city was nominated for judge of the supreme court in the second district without opposition. He is a supreme court judge now.

MARTIAL LAW IS SET UP IN IRELAND

(By United Press.) London, April 27.—Martial law was proclaimed today throughout Ireland when reports reached the government that the rebellion is spreading.

Premier Asquith startled parliament this afternoon with a frank admission that prosperous western counties are showing signs of dissatisfaction and that street fighting continues in Dublin, where the rebels still hold some important buildings, despite the efforts of British troops. Parliament had expected to hear that the rebellion was completely crushed and the statement that the situation was "still serious" came as a thunderbolt.

When Asquith concluded Sir Edward Carson, Unionist, leader, and John Redmond, Irish Nationalist leader, bitter foes in the home rule fight, joined hands in strong declarations of support of the government.

Bloomington, Ind., April 27.—The troubles of Dr. Carl H. Eigenmann, member of the faculty of Indiana University and an authority on blind fishes, who for some time has been trying to secure naturalization papers as an American citizen, seem to be without end. Last fall Dr. Eigenmann organized an expedition to South America to study the fishes of that country, but then it was learned for the first time that he was not an American citizen, although he admitted that he had voted in this country for many years. The discovery was made when he applied for passports, which were necessary because of the war. The expedition had to be delayed because Dr. Eigenmann did not wish to risk capture by the English on the sea.

Dr. Eigenmann was born in Germany but came to this country when a youth with his parents and supposed that he was an American citizen. He has been in Washington for some time trying to straighten out the affair and recently wrote his family as follows:

"One of the questions submitted to me in the final set of papers was: 'Why do you want to become an American citizen?'"

"I wrote in reply: 'Because I have acted like an American citizen for 31 years and don't want to change my habits.'"

Mrs. Will Jones is able to be up after an illness.

The other picture is a comedy entitled "You're Next." Tomorrow matinee and night the feature picture "Green Stockings" will be shown. Lillian Walker is featured taking the part of Celia the oldest daughter of a gruff Englishman. Refusing to continue as the family drudge because of her failure "to land a husband," she creates a flounce out of her imagination. TO DARKEN HAIR APPLY SAGE TEA

Natural Color, Gloss and Attractiveness.

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea with sulphur added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Just a few applications will prove a revelation if your hair is fading, streaked or gray. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get a 50-cent bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound at any drug store all ready for use. This is the old time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients.

While wispy, gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared, and, after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant.

This preparation is a delightful toilet requisite and is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

For Better Crops.

The departments of agriculture, state and national, are engaged in trying to induce the farmers to increase the productivity of their farms.

The high value of the food produced should be a strong inducement to increase the quantity by closer and better cultivation of the earth. If it should have this result and increase production permanently the country would get some return for the high prices it is now obliged to pay for a short supply of food.

Our farmers have not yet learned to get out of the land what there is in it. The old wasteful methods of production in vogue when land and food were alike cheap and easily obtained still prevail. If the intensive method of cultivation that obtains in Belgium and other densely populated parts of Europe were employed here even in part there would be no shortage of the food supply.

Seven years ago a Republican Secretary of State tried to have Congress establish the office of Under Secretary—but the highly democratic Democrats reared up and denounced the scheme as a patterning after the effete monarchies of Europe. So, while the job was established, the title given to it was that of Counsellor. Now the Democrats have brought in a bill to change the name of the place to Under Secretary. It is a small matter, perhaps, but, taken with all the other Republican notions which Democrats nowadays are adopting, it is worth noting.

An amendment to the sugar bill, offered by Senator Lodge, provided for a tariff on dyestuffs, a measure of legislation which has the approval of Democrats and Republicans alike, outside of Congress. The Democrats voted it down, of course. The dyemakers will have to possess their soul with patience until 1917. This action of the Senate is a pretty certain indication that there will be no attempt on the part of the House Democrats to bring in a protective dyestuffs tariff. The Hill bill will go into the discard for this Congress.

Merchandise left the port of New York April 6th to the value of $15,356,000, for France, Italy, and Great Britain. Of this total, horses, brass, and wheat made up $12,000,000. The remainder was automobiles, chemicals, explosives, etc. And Doctor Pratt denies that our exports are swollen chiefly by war orders.

Current Comments

Protection of American industries by a tariff that takes off the sharp edge of competition with cheap foreign labor may not be one of the leading topics speakers in the next campaign will discuss but it is a matter which will have its proper place in the minds of all voting citizens.

So many industries have suffered under the Democratic tariff and the folly of that law brought home so forcibly to the minds of millions of Americans that no matter how overshadowing the question of preparedness is next fall the tariff will play its part in the contest, even though apparently neglected as an issue. The effects of the Underwood measure have driven many heretofore low tariff men to the belief that this country cannot afford to weaken its commercial protection.

The Republican party still stands for a high tariff as it has stood in the past. The cleavage between that party and the Democrats is so well defined that there can be no confusion. And unless every indication is misleading the country is anxious to restore to power the party which

Daniel, Woolsey Voorhees 1827-97.

Daniel W. Voorhees was elected to a congress in 1860. He was re-elected in 1862 and 1864; but although he had a majority of 634 votes in the latter election his election was contested by Henry W. Washburn and congress unseated Voorhees. He later served two more terms in Congress and upon the death of Senator Morton, 1877, was appointed to the United States senate by Governor Williams.

Voorhees was regularly elected United States senator for three successive terms and served until March 4, 1897.

Doubtless his greatest work as senator was done in behalf of the new congressional library. As chairman of the committee he devoted several years to this worthless cause. He was called by his senatorial friends "the father of the library." He died in Washington April 10, 1897.

OBSTACLE IN WAY OF A SETTLEMENT

Wilson Demands German U-Boats Warn Freighters as Well as Passenger Vessels

(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

Berlin, April 27.—President Wilson's demand that German submarines warn freighters as well as passenger liners constitutes the most serious obstacle in the way of a satisfactory settlement of the German-American issue, the United Press learned today from authoritative sources.

Other points at controversy can be settled without danger of a diplomatic break.

Missionaries Urged to Recognize

Washington, April 27.—To do successful missionary work among Hindus, Christians must recognize, for a time at least, the caste system. Sherwood Eddy, noted worker in Oriental fields, told the Men's National Missionary congress here today.

Hindus of one caste will not accept religious advice from another, he said. But if the Christian religion could have sufficient teachers who are members of the lower strata of society, fifty million converts would be obtained in a short time, Eddy predicted.

He had found in China, he said, that the educated classes were the hardest to reach; but that in India, it was the uneducated mass of lower caste Hindu that was hard to get at.

TO PUNISH PITTSBURGH COPS IF THEY TRY TO STOP SPOONEY LOVERS.

Pittsburgh, April 26.—Here is Police Superintendent Mathews' pronouncement concerning spooney lovers in Pittsburgh parks:

"Any policeman who is so lacking in brains as to disturb any exercise of that kind will be placed on the books. Such an officer would not be humane."

"Yes, sir; you can say for me that spooning goes in the parks. It is in the spring of the year especially that young hearts turn to love and love leads to marriage and happy homes."

SCHLEY'S OLD CUTTER IS SOLD

After Thirty-Five Years' Service
Coast Guard Thetis is Offered
at Auction.

First Entered Service as a Whaler
of Gen. Greeley.

San Francisco, April 27.—After bucking the ice in most of the seven seas for thirty-five years, the Coast Guard Cutter Thetis is cruising into this port to go into the governmental discard today by public auction.

The European war saved the Thetis from the scrap heap. Steamship men all over the United States await her arrival here. They are to bid for her when the government auctioneer announces:

"One Steamship, gentlemen."

During her service the Thetis has not been a liner and a lady. She started out as a Dundee whaler, a work that requires mainly what sailors call "guts."

The Thetis entered the navy in 1883 when commanded by then Capt. W. S. Schley, she went with two other ships, to rescue Lieut. A. W. Greeley, afterward Major General Greeley, from the Arctic ice. She served as a navy survey on one trip carrying a load of reindeer from Siberia to Alaska.

The fact that she was condemned by the Navy a dozen years ago did not interfere with her efficiency.

Coast Guard men say they would have been lucky two years ago to get $3,000 for her. Now, they say, they expect her to bring $30,000. She is expected to pay for herself on her first trip.

Another Puncture!

It always happens at the most maddening time—just when you want to catch a train or keep some important engagement. And usually it isn't really a puncture at all, but a leaky tube.

Now porous rubber (so-called) and leakage around the valves are among the commonest failings of cheap, machine-made tubes. If you are tired of these needless "punctures" equip your car with Kelly-Springfield Tubes. They are made slowly and painstakingly by hand out of real rubber. They can be punctured, of course, but they won't leak.

If you use Kelly-Springfield Tubes in Kelly-Springfield hand-made, real rubber tires you will add increased mileage to freedom from needless tube trouble.

BLODGETT REMEMBERS ALL THE BOYS FROM RUSH

W. H. Blodgett, in the column, "Hail, Hail, the Gang's All Here," in the Indianapolis News, remembers Rush county Democrats with the following quips:

Sam L. Trabue, of Rushville, succeeded in getting in as a contingent elector. Sam certainly was entitled to more than that. However, he is not to be required to wear his uniform and that will help out some.

Cary Jackson, Rushville's famous state senator, looked up the various enterprises in which he is interested and came to the convention to enjoy a little rest.

Rush G. Budd, of Rushville, was among those who made the convention work just as if it were oiled.

E. R. Casady, of Rushville, seems to be perfectly at home in a Democratic convention.

Mr. Frank Hall, of Rushville former Lieutenant-Governor, left his law practice for the time being in order to take an active part in the proceedings of the convention.

Donald Smith, of Rushville, one of the Democrats who helps keep that city on the political map, took a prominent part in all that went on in the convention, and before the convention.

RECOVERS HORSES

William Gruell of this city, who had three horses in training at the fair grounds in Connersville, found the horses near Indianapolis this week. He is not certain whether they strayed or were stolen, but is inclined to believe the latter because he thinks if they had strayed, they would have returned to his place near this city.

WOMEN'S TEAMS TO PLAY

Second Annual San Francisco Horse Show Opens.

(By United Press.)

San Francisco, April 27.—Polo ponies which have won plaudits for their owners on many a speedy turf were exhibited here today in the Second Annual Horse Show.

Society was out in force. As the blue blooded equines pranced around the arena amid a clatter of hand-clapping it was realized that the motor still had a long road to travel before it could shove the horse entirely out of the limelight.

Eggs Will be Canned According to Commercial Standards And Grades Displayed

Uncle Sam's special egg candling, packing and chilling demonstration car will leave Manchester on May 5 and is due to arrive in Rushville on May 6 about 9 o'clock. Purdue will exhibit its two poultry cars at the same hours.

At each stop, the specialists with the car have tested, graded, chilled, and packed without charge local eggs for the local shippers.

When the car reaches Rushville it will be located on the Big Four side track. The demonstrations will begin at 8:30 o'clock and continue until 4:30. The car will spend one day in this place.

The Department specialists on this summer tour will give special attention to eggs and their proper preparation for shipment. They will also give information to those especially interested in the most approved methods of dressing, chilling, and packing chickens and turkeys for shipment to the New York and other distant markets. A model showing the construction of a small ice-chilled precooling plant will be exhibited and explained. The purpose is to increase local profits from poultry and eggs, prevent waste, and preserve quality.

Eggs will be candled according to the commercial standards and "fresh," "stale" and "heated" eggs, "bloodings," "white rots," "black rots" and other grades will be exhibited. The demonstration in detecting "white rots" is said to be very important, as many candlers confuse "white rots" with "fresh" eggs. The eggs will then be sorted by market standards of size, cleanliness of shell, and condition of contents.

The eggs can then be put into the refrigerating rooms of the car, where they may be chilled to 40 degrees Fahrenheit in 24 hours. Eggs packed warm in a refrigerator car do not get chilled properly for about five days, during which time they undergo constant deterioration.

The chilled eggs can then be loaded in cars for shipment. The demonstrators will show the most successful ways of using fillers, flats, and baffling, placing and number of nails to the case, and the best way of stowing cases in the cars. A small model car will be loaded in order to show the practical application of straw or wood baffling, bracing the load, placing the cases so that they will be kept cool, and other details of stowing egg cases to prevent damage in transit.

All interested are cordially invited to attend. The car in itself is well worth seeing. The cooling system is operated by its own gasoline engine. The engine also provides electric current so that the refrigerating rooms can be well lighted and night demonstrations can be held. This same car spent last season in southern Indiana. In previous seasons the car was in Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas, Missouri, and Kentucky, and shippers who followed its methods were able to ship turkeys for the Thanksgiving and Christmas trade in New York in such a way that they reached the Eastern markets in prime condition in spite of abnormally warm weather, and what had been unprofitable summer egg businesses were made to pay.

Iowa Sure of Getting Cleaned as 16,000 Are in Line.

(By United Press.)

Des Moines, Ia., April 27.—Governor Geo. W. Clarke, at the request of the Federated Women's clubs of Iowa, designated the week beginning today as "Clean-up Week" in Iowa. Sixteen thousand women are behind the movement, inspired by devotion to the public welfare.

The governor says "they are anxious to establish higher ideals, better civic standards, better sanitary conditions; to minimize danger from fires, to make homes of the state and their surroundings more inviting and beautiful."

The people of the state are co-operating with the women in the "clean-up" movement and mayors of cities newspapers and public officials generally are aiding.

"HELL" HELD NOT TO BE PROFANE

Messages to Congressman Finly Gray From Richmond Delayed Until Question is Settled

Richmond, Ind., April 27.—When Gen. Sherman made his famous declaration "War is hell," was he profane? The Cincinnati (O.) office of the Western Union Telegraph Company ruled that the word "hell" as used in Sherman's statement was profane, and for a time a rejection of about fifty messages from Richmond German-Americans to Representative Finly H. Gray at Washington, protesting against a possible diplomatic breach with Germany, was in prospect. It was finally decided that "hell" as used by Sherman was probably not a naughty word and that messages containing the declaration could be transmitted without violation of the Federal statutes. The fifty add messages sent from Richmond to Representative Gray all read the same: "Please do all possible to prevent a break with Germany. War is hell."

Affairs In The Social World

Edited by Miss Frances Frazee

The members of the Thimble Club will be entertained by Mrs. John Frazee at her home in North Main street tomorrow afternoon.

The members of the R. S. C. Club will have their regular meeting on Saturday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kenner. A Shakespeare program will be given by the members.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Stewart left today for Lafayette where they will be chaperones at the Phi Delta Theta House for the houseparty, their son, Simeon being among the guests. A dance this evening at the fraternity house starts the festivities. Miss Fremia Wilk and Miss Ruth Innis are also to be guests at the Phi Delta Theta House.

At the business meeting of Phi Delta Kappa held last evening, twelve members were present. It was decided by the members of the fraternity to give the Commencement dance. A smoker followed the business meeting when mandolin music was furnished by one of the members.

Among those from this city who attended the Commencement of the Arlington high school last evening were Mr. and Mrs. John McCoy and their guests Mrs. Flannegan and daughter, Rose Mary, the Misses Anna Carroll and Kathryn Carroll, Mrs. Charles Caron, Mrs. E. M. Osborn and Mrs. Eva Cressinger.

ENTERTAIN CLUB
The Misses Anna and Mary Rosencrance entertained the members of the G. G. Club last evening at their home. The club is composed of ten young people who spent a delightful evening together playing games.

AFTERNOON OF CARDS
Mrs. Theodore Reed entertained the members of the Bridge Club yesterday afternoon at her home in North Main street, when the ladies spent a delightful time together over the card tables. At the close of the games an elaborate course dinner was served to the twelve guests.

AID SOCIETY
Mrs. Ed Caldwell and Mrs. Mike Coyne were hostesses this afternoon for the members of the Ladies Aid society of the Catholic church, which met at the home of the former. A business session and social good time were the features of the afternoon, for which a good attendance was present.

"500" CLUB.
The twelve players in the "500" club were the guests of Miss Minnie Vaught last evening at a regular club meeting. The usual game furnished a delightful evening for the members and light refreshments were served during the course of the affair. Twelve members of the club were present.

PRESBYTERY MEETING
What is believed to be the largest attendance at any Presbytery held in the Whitewater district was the one yesterday at the meeting in Connorsville when eighty-five active missionary workers assembled in the First Presbyterian church. All the officers were re-elected for the coming year. Mrs. S. A. Bonner of Greensburg tendered her resignation as president. It was not accepted, however. Lunch and supper were served by the ladies in the church parlors to the visitors. From this city the following ladies attended: Mrs. F. B. Stearns and daughter Miss Anna, Mrs. John Boyd, Mrs. J. T. Arbuckle, Miss Minnie Beale, Mrs. Ruby Petry and Mrs. E. W. Barrington.
It was decided to have the next Presbytery in Lawrenceburg.

GREAT SUCCESS

The members of Dr. Gilbert's class of the Christian church are rightly elated over the success of the penny supper and parcel post sale last evening. In spite of the inclemency of the weather, an immense crowd filled the church basement all during the evening and as a result of the supper and sale of parcels, one hundred and five dollars were taken in and a sum of over ninety dollars was cleared.

The members of the Embroidery Club spent this afternoon as the guests of Mrs. Zimmer in West Seventh street, sewing for needy children. Sociability prevailed throughout the affair during which a great deal of profitable work was accomplished. Aside from the club members, there were several invited guests making the guests of Mrs. Zimmer number about seventeen. A tempting salad course was served by the hostess.

WITH MRS. GUFFIN

The members of Mrs. Guffin's Embroidery Club had a pleasant afternoon together at her country home east of the city when they were entertained this afternoon. Flowers of several colors were used in the decorating. Music by the Edison aided in the pleasure of the afternoon during which the ladies engaged in needlework. A delicious refecton was served by the hostess.

JUNIOR-SENIOR

Perhaps the most brilliant affair of the year for the Raleigh high school was the reception given Tuesday evening by the Junior class for the Senior class at the home of Melvin Cole, northeast of Raleigh. Very appropriate decorations were used, bringing out the colors of the high school and the two classes entertained. Strands of black and orange the Senior class colors were used in the parlor of the pretty country home; the Junior class was honored with their class colors, purple and gold, being tastefully used in the sitting room; and red and white, the high school colors, were used in transforming the dining room, where the guests were served, into a pretty bower. During the course of the evening, two lively contests amused the guests. In the first a conundrum contest, Orval Morgan proved to be the winner, and in another, where the names of parts of an automobile filled in the sentences, Miss Marie Seegers and Aaron Laughlin were experts. The dainty two course luncheon which was served in the dining room included chicken sandwiches, perfection salad, brick ice cream and angel food cake. Forty-five guests were present, the inclemency of the weather preventing the other fifteen who were invited from being present.

LOCAL WOMAN PRESIDENT

Mrs. Guy Abercrombie of this city was elected district chairman to succeed Mrs. T. Benton Henley of Carthage at the Federation of Clubs which closed at Shelbyville yesterday. Mrs. Abercrombie was county chairman here when the federation was entertained by the Rush county clubs last year. It was also decided to hold the tenth annual federation, next year, in Connorsville. Other officers elected were vice-chairman, Mrs. Maud New of Greenfield and secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Willard Petro of Cambridge City.

Music at the meeting yesterday morning was furnished by Miss Hester Porter and Miss Margaret Birely, both of whom are known in this city. Reports of different departments were given by Mrs. R. M. Hicks, of Cambridge City, Mrs. H. W. Saxon of Greenwood, Mrs. A. W. Roach of Greenwood, Mrs. Guy Abercrombie of this city, and Mrs. Paul Comstock of Richmond. One of the most interesting features of the meetings yesterday was the question conducted by Mrs. T. Benton Henley. The guests at the federation numbered about 150, representing clubs in all parts of the sixth district. Among the visitors from here were: Mrs. Louis Lambert, Mrs. Ione Abercrombie, Mrs. A. L. Aldridge, Mrs. Lenore Blackledge, Mrs. Guy Gordon, Miss Jennie Madden, Miss Lenora Norris, Mrs. C. M. George, and Mrs. J. T. Paxton.

NEW YORK FASHION NOTES

BY MARGARET MASON.
(Written for United Press.)

To have all things harmonious as much as she was able, in home and dress and everything, essayed aesthetic Mabel. And so they'd be in rhythm with Her fifty garden smocks.

The sole blooms in her garden were Stocks, Hollyhocks and phlox.

New York, April 27.—When you stand in the midst of your garden, whether it be a sunken Italian one or a raised window box, do you want to look the fairest flower of the lot?

All your zinnias, gladiolas, begonias and cannas will simply droop their heads in the face of such a ravishing combination.

Beginning at the top the crowning glory of the garden outfit is the hat; and its only essentials are that it be big, floppy and becoming.

Those of the cane chair seat weave are smart, bound in a color to match your smock, with a twist of the same around the crown. Peanut straw, leghorns, panamas and loose grass women hats are all lovely; and wide brimmed ones covered in flowered cretonne or awning stripes to match your skirt also are good. If you want to go in

for Oriental gardening the artistic Coolie hats are perfect, but if you top yourself off thus you will have to taboo the smock and awning stripe skirt, for garments modeled after a Chinese woman's coat and skirt. Otherwise your outfit would not be in perfect accord according to aesthetic Mabel. These Chinese effects really are the very newest Spring crop of gardening gear and most original.

The awning stripe skirts this season are not only the broad stripes of a bright color alternating with white, like we had last year, but reveal in a riotous array of colored stripes in four or five hectic hues, like a Bakst ballet. They all are very short and full and button down the front with either yawning slashed pockets set in either side, or puffy pouched ones set on.

The artistic willow baskets set on their long sticks come in either natural coloring or may be stained to suit. They contain of course the most fascinating collection of gardening tools; a trowel whose handle is gay with paint, a pair of shears and your garden gloves.

Adorable watering pots blooming with hand painted nosegays, and

rakes with well decorated handles are a few other indispensable accessories of the fashionable garden.

Oh yes, and there are quaint and practical garden aprons too, the best model of which are the newest, is of striped material bound in a plain color with a bib and straps over the shoulders.

It is long so that you may stoop in the wet grass without dampening your skirt or your arbor and yet at will it buttons up to a desirable shortness and by this act turns itself into a capacious pocket.

So open up your garden gate. Besmoke yourself all up to date. And seeds of love will quickly grow in hearts of all who see you so and sow.

The funeral services of Roger Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Miller, who died yesterday, will be held at the residence Friday afternoon at two o'clock and will be private.

* PUT HOT TEA POT *
* AND DID A SALUTE *
* UNDER HIS ARM *

(By United Press.)

London, April 27.—Admiral Lord Charles Beresford is the butt of considerable chaff just now over an incident which occurred at the tea party tendered by the King and Queen to wounded soldiers at Buckingham Palace.

Lord Charles was present to aid the naval table tea pouring. He is quite absent minded.

The frozen and dried egg industry, declares a new publication of the Department of Agriculture, is a permanent one because it meets a distinct economic need. Many eggs which could not stand long shipments may be preserved as wholesome food by freezing them out of the shell or by drying. In the beginning, however, there was a natural popular prejudice against the business, which was increased by the ignorance and carelessness of some of the pioneers. It was under these conditions that the Department of Agriculture undertook a study of the problem in order to lay the groundwork for a scientific preparation of an extremely perishable product. Some of the results of this study have just been published in a professional paper, Bulletin No. 224, A Study of the Preparation of Frozen and Dried Eggs in the Producing Section.

The eggs commonly used by reputable firms for breaking are small or oversized eggs and dirty, cracked, or shrunken eggs. To the trade these are known as "seconds." They are not to be confused with eggs that are unfit for human use, such as the classes known as black, white, mixed and sour rots, green whites, eggs with stuck yolks, musty and moldy eggs, blood rings, etc. These should be rejected entirely or else used for tanning purposes only. Eggs with a bad odor should be rejected absolutely.

Careful candling before the eggs go to the breaking room is one of the principal points upon the importance of which the new bulletin recommends some system by which the work of individual candlers may be checked. Eggs that it is found difficult to grade should be set aside by the regular candlers for examination by an expert. Furthermore the eggs should be graded again when out of the shell, for certain kinds of infection can only be de-

While it is desirable, from a financial standpoint, that the breakers should work with rapidity, too much speed is not to be desired because of the danger that unfit eggs may be included with good ones before the breaker can detect the difference. When that happens, no attempt should be made to save the good eggs. In practice, it was found that in order to prevent waste and to insure good grading, no more than three eggs should be broken into a cup before it is emptied. It was also found that from twelve to sixteen eggs a minute is as rapid work as can be done satisfactorily. Even this is not possible if the breakers are permitted to talk or their attention is distracted from their work in other ways.

It emphasizes the necessity for separate rooms for chilling, candling, breaking, freezing and drying the eggs. Each should be maintained at a definite temperature by artificial refrigeration. A room for washing and sterilizing the utensils should adjoin the breaking room. When a bad egg is found, all apparatus contaminated by it must be exchanged for clean, and the hands of the operator washed before beginning work again.

The production of frozen and dried eggs, it is said, is primarily an industry for the egg-producing sections. Many eggs that now reach the large consuming markets in a totally unfit condition could be saved and a large portion of the annual waste eliminated if they were treated in time.

VEGETABLE CALOMEL

Vegetable calomel, extract of the root of the old-fashioned may-apple plant, does not salivate. As a liver stimulant, it's great. As a perfect substitute for ordinary calomel (mercury); in fact, it's better, because its action is gentle instead of severe and irritating—and it leaves no mean, disagreeable after-effects. Physicians recognize this and prescribe may-apple root (podoophyllin, they call it) daily.

Combined with four other standard, all-vegetable remedies, may-apple root may now be had at most any druggist's in convenient sugar-coated tablet form by asking for Santalax Laxatives. If you forget the name, ask for the box that has the picture of the soldier on it.

These tablets are small, easy to take and are really wonderful little performers. They quickly clean out the poisons that are causing you headache, constipation, sour stomach, biliousness, dizzy spells, bad breath and coated tongue.

They are mild. They never gripe. And they are a bowel tonic as well as a cleanser and liver regulator. A 10c box should last one several weeks. A Physician's trial package (4 doses) will be mailed you free if you write mentioning this advertisement. The Santalax Remedies Co., 802 Madison Ave., Covington, Ky.

TIPPECANOE IS TO BE REFOUGHT

Lafayette, Ind., April 27.—The battle of Tippecanoe is to be refought this week, on the original battle ground. The Prophet, Shawnee Indian medicine man has incited his warriors to attack the white settlers. General William Henry Harrison is ready with his 910 soldiers to give battle and show the Redskins that the United States government does not stand for depredations on its white settlers.

In addition, the "movie men" and "war" correspondents are here to do the matter justice. It will be the first battle ever fought in Indiana since the motion picture became a reality and the opportunity is not to be lost.

Everybody here is excited. The "soldiers," many of them students from Purdue University, have never been in a real war before. They, however, have volunteered to fight for their country and show their Hoosier pride, for they have been told that their movements are to be recorded for the benefit of Indiana's centennial year. The scene which is but a part of the 7,000-foot spectacular production showing Indiana history from the time of LaSalle's advent to the Spanish American war will be shown in every county in Ind. Historical centennial film.

General William Henry Harrison, civil as well as military head of Indian Territory in 1811, when the battle of Tippecanoe was staged, will be forced to take his orders from Frank Beal, "movie" director. He must "register determination" whether he is exactly in that mood or not.

Visitors from all over the state are expected to be here, for the event. Several members of the Indiana Historical Commission who recently "acted" for the film on the steps of the Soldiers and Sailors monument at Indianapolis, will be here to see if the professional movie stars have "anything on them."

All of the big character parts are to be taken care of by experienced actors in the employ of the Selig Polyscope Company, which is staging and photographing the production for the Interstate company.

In addition to the staging of the battle of Tippecanoe, the burning of Prophetstown is to be reproduced. This scene will be staged immediately after the battle, in which the Redskins, under the leadership of The Prophet, are defeated.

The scene showing The Prophet inciting the Indians to make war on the whites will not be overlooked. The Prophet will be seen standing on "Prophet's Rock" making a speech. In this speech, history states that the Indian told his followers that the bullets of Harrison's men would do them no harm and that they (the Indians) would "mow down the whites like wheat under the scythe." Thus incited by their leaders the Indians start a war dance and then fare forth to attack the whites. This scene will be staged with all the elaborateness of detail. The facial expressions of the Indians, who believed the raise Pro-

During the scenes to be taken here some of the biggest and most famous men in the history of Indiana will appear. Among them will be Major Hamilton Daviess, after whom Daviess county was named. It was in this stage of Indiana history that John Tipton, at that time Ensign Tipton, made his appearance. Later, when a General, Tipton purchased the site of the battle of Tippecanoe and gave it to the state to be used as a park.

Another figure, familiar in Indiana history, who is introduced in the picture at this time is Tecumseh, brother of The Prophet. Historians generally agree that Tecumseh was the wiser of the two brothers. He had foresight enough to know that General Harrison would defeat the Indians if they attacked him at the time the battle really took place. He was not a participant in the battle, having left for the South to secure reinforcements, when his brother (The Prophet) disobeyed his orders and exhorted the Indians to battle.

FAMOUS STABLE OF HUNTERS SOLD

New York, April 27.—Because the war has made it impossible for him and Lady Beck to keep up their annual hunts that have made them world-famous in sportsworld society, Sir Adam Beck of London, Ontario today is selling all his prize winning hunters at auction here.

The sale will include eleven hunters, several of whom were winners at the last international Horse Show in England. In the list are Hampton, Zanetta, Sir Edward, Hydro, Monarch, Shelia, Londersborough, Harkaway, Santos, Sovereign and Milton, all well known performers in the field as well as in the show ring.

Lady Beck, the wife of Sir Adam Beck, will be remembered as one of the judges of saddle horses at the last National Horse Show in New York. The Becks have been accustomed to hunting in England each winter, but the war has interfered with their arrangements. Not since the sale of the hunting stable of Sir Clifford Sifton, of Ottawa, Ontario, about a year ago, have so many noted hunting horses been offered at public auction.

TODAY'S ODDEST STORY.

Owner Finds That Works of Art

Sell Better Here Than They do on Continent.

(By United Press.)
New York, April 27.—A collection of old masters that once belonged to Prince Golinicheff-Koutousoff, personal secretary to the Dowager Empress Marie Feodorovna, Winter Palace, Petrograd is to be sold at the Plaza here today.

The collection is valued at hundreds of thousands of dollars.

Mr. Nicolas Riabouchinsky, of Moscow, a wealthy man, bought the collection of Prince Golinicheff-Koutousoff. Mr. Riabouchinsky is in New York in the service of his country in matters connected with the purchase of war supplies.

He has discovered that in this land of Bethlehem, U. S., Crucible and other "war brides," works of art sell at much higher prices than they do on the Continent. That is why the former Golinicheff-Koutousoff collection of paintings will be placed on sale.

Mr. Riabouchinsky's collection is catalogued as containing old masters "of the Northern and Southern schools"—that is, paintings by masters of the Low Countries and Germany, and by those of France and Italy.

The Fleming Hugo van der Goes, is represented in the catalogue by an altar panel, a "Flight Into Egypt," and there is another panel by the Flemish artist Gerard van der Meere.

There are more than 600 items in the collection. Several Van Ducks are included.

ship, Hancock county, brought suit to enjoin the trustee from selling bonds which were issued for the purpose of erecting a new school building. The case was venued to Shelby county and the circuit judge after hearing the evidence held that the trustee had the right to determine the location of a school building. An appeal was taken with the result that the decision was affirmed.

The appellate court said: "Appellants (the taxpayer plaintiffs) apparently with much feeling, argue that if school officers at will may expend large sums of money, as here attempted, that the way is clear to a dissipation of public funds without the sanction or approval of the taxpayers. This would be a weighty argument to address to the law-making body of the state if there is a lack of restraint upon public officers who have the handling and expenditure of public funds, as officers possessed with authority to expend public funds should do so economically, keeping in view the necessity for so doing, but relief in this respect can not come through the courts."

The court considered the statutes governing the establishment and the change of location of schoolhouses, and held that prior to 1893 the trustee had authority to decide the location of any schoolhouse without in any manner consulting the patrons of the school. Although a statute then enacted was worded to embrace "any school" under his control, the court said, it was enacted before the time when township high schools were authorized, and showed that by decisions of the court it has been construed to be addressed to the control over district schools, and not to prevent the trustee from acting without consulting the patrons of high schools, in the change of such school's location.

In the case decided it was shown that a joint district and high school was established in district No. 5 in the township, and $5,000 was expended in addition to the amount that would have been necessary to equip it for a district school only. On a petition signed only by a majority of the patrons of the district and the trustees, an order was obtained from the county superintendent of schools for a change of the location of both the district and the high school. A contract was made for building a high school and district school at a cost of $34,479.90, and bonds were issued for carrying on the work, it was shown. The complaint sought to restrain the trustee from selling the bonds and going ahead with the work. The court held that there were no allegations in the complaint that a majority of the patrons of the school were opposed to the new location of the school, and the building of the new schoolhouse, nor that it was against the best interests of the township. The complaint, the court held, was based on the alleged lack of the authority of the trustee, and the appellate court affirmed the judgment on the ground that the trustee had the authority, and that the statutes restricting his authority as to the change of the location of a district school did not apply to the change of the location of a township high school.

EFFORT WILL BE OF LITTLE AVAIL

Dr. J. N. Hurty Says Work to Increase Food Supply Will be Fruitless on One Condition.

Indianapolis, Ind., April 27.—In discussing plans for the state health officers' school to be held here May 2 and 3, under the direction of the state board of health, Dr. J. N. Hurty, secretary of the state board, asserted that the efforts being made to increase the food supply would be of little avail as long as the country continued to neglect the business of public health. The school will have for its motto "The most important business before the business man today, in the business of public health."

Dr. Hurty said there was more sickness among the farmers today than among the city dwellers in proportion to numbers. This, he said, was due almost entirely to poor food, he explained, he meant an unbalanced diet, lacking chiefly in nitrogen.

Fat meat, corn bread, wheat bread, molasses, cream gravy, potatoes and coffee, constitute the food of most farmers, according to the state official, who added that each article of food, in itself, was good, but that all taken together they were bad because they did not give the body enough of some of the necessary elements and too much of others.

Dr. Hurty explained that poor food was responsible for the lack-luster eyes, puffy complexion and slothful demeanor of country children, which he said were to be found in the majority in a drive about the country. Dr. Hurty declared that an officer of the United States Public Health Service, who inspected a number of schools in Indiana, found that in one school of 21 pupils, every one was underfed.

An Inside Bath Makes You Look and Feel Fresh

Says a glass of hot water with
phosphate before breakfast
keeps illness away.

This excellent, common-sense
health measure being
adopted by millions.

Physicians the world over recommend the inside bath, claiming this is vastly more important than outside cleanliness, because the skin
pores do not absorb impurities into
the blood, causing ill health, while the
pores in the ten yards of bowels do.
Men and women are urged to drink
each morning, before breakfast, a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, as a harmless means of helping to wash
from the stomach, liver, kidneys and
bowels the previous day's indigestible
material, poisons, sour bile and toxins;
thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

Just as soap and hot water cleanse
and freshen the skin, so hot water and limestone phosphate act on the elimi-
native organs.

Those who wake up with bad breath,
coated tongue, nasty taste or have a
dull, aching head, sallow complexion,
acid stomach; others who are subject
to bilious attacks or constipation,
should obtain a quarter pound of limestone phosphate at the drug store.
This will cost very little but is sufficient to demonstrate the value of inside bathing. Those who continue it
each morning are assured of pronounced results, both in regard to
health and appearance.

Europe will rise rapidly from the
ashes of war.

Demobilizing the great armies, re-
starting the machinery and collecting the threads of commerce will
take time, but the spirit of revival
will be much greater than ever before.

The belligerent nations' enormous
new machinery for making munitions
will, mostly, be adapted to developing various manufacturers.
This will be a great asset.

I question whether labor will ever
permit a return of the pre-war
scale wages in England, France or Germany. I think the standard of
labor has been permanently raised throughout Europe. I am very glad
of it.

Tremendous impetus has been given to female labor. European women have for years wanted a larger place in the commercial
world. They have it.

These women never again will occupy dull, uninteresting places in the home. This will increase the supply. The European labor supply at

I think increased production will employ part of this increased supply. The European labor supply at the beginning of the war was greater than the demand. This was the reason for the low wages.

Still I think I am right that wages
are permanently raised. I think they will be raised by the power of the Trade Unions.

Europe will, after the war, no
matter if it lasts two years more,
have enough money to do business.

Those who have been living on the interest of their money will suffer
most. The rich man who is active
can afford to lose his money because he is continually getting more. It has been the custom for a man to retire from or never enter business,
just living upon his small or large
income, and seeking a peerage or baronetcy. Now he will find it wise
and inviting to become a business
man who helps produce.

I think Society, so often snobbish
and unintelligent in big affairs, will break off the barnacles of the mid-Victorian period and again look
upon work, trade and commerce as praiseworthy rather than pitiable.

England has many beautiful estates with much idle ground. A great many of these estates will be sold
because the owners cannot afford to hold them. Thus, much land heretofore idle will become agricultural ground, used in the real interests of life.

Many young men who had uninteresting posts have joined the army
and got a taste of fresh air and
sunshine which they will have difficulty in forgetting. Those posts
now must be made attractive and remunerative. Probably a large number of these young men will turn
to newer countries: Canada, Australia, South Africa.

The United States will get her large shares, but Europe will strive
to keep the best men.

I don't believe the young man
whose head is full of brains and
whose body is full of good red blood
will be content to continue on the
old, somewhat feudal basis which existed in parts of this portion of the world before the war.

England is recognizing for the
is the most necessary branch of
activity in building up the State.

I think the terms of final settlement of this war will have much to do with possible trading among themselves of the nations now at war.

Many people feel that the public
never again will buy a German made

article. Others feel that trading again must begin between Germany
and Great Britain after the settlement, to a greater or lesser extent depending on the manner in which the final Treaty is drawn.

tariff, taking the matter out of politics. Before the war, the issue of protection was nearly dead, but
with the new industries springing
up there will be a feeling that they should be, at least for a period,
protected from lower period continental labor.

America could manufacture for
the European market but has not
during the last year and a half manifested any great desire to do it, or
taken any serious steps toward it,
with a few exceptions.

America has not yet quite learned the science of export business. It is difficult for a commercial community to develop the intricate export business where the elements of
trading are unfamiliar.

Great Britain certainly will make
herself a greater export nation after the war than she was before.
Much of the old spirit of "let-well-
enough-alone," and getting enough
to live on and then getting out of business will have evaporated.

(Issued by the Indiana Historical commission.)

Getting Ready For Company.

Spring, coy and hesitating, dirting outrageously with everybody and
everything in sight, but coming nevertheless. It is the glad some smelly
time of the year; glad some with glinting sunshine, singing birds and
shooting verdure; smelly with fresh paint, the festive spray pump
and burning trash heaps. But the
smelliness is just as essential as the gladness thereof, and especially so in the year 1916.

Indiana should be getting such a
cleaning up these days as will make
the State fairly shine with cleanliness, from the heart of the capital
city to the fence row of the farthest
county. The work should be undertaken by all official and civic bodies
and by individuals as well. The thousands upon thousands of visitors who will through the state this year will judge as by the general appearance of town and countryside as well as by the Centennial programs
with which we shall entertain them.
So get out the old rake, place the
lawn mower in a state of preparedness, spade up the flower beds, get
action on the peaceful pruning hook,
and soften up the paint brush. These implements of the arts of peace
must figure prominently and immediately in our Centennial preparations.

Moving Camera in Action.

Actual work of taking pictures
for the Indiana history film was begun Friday when Director Frank Beal and a corps of assistants began operations at the Capital. Pictures were taken at the State House,
and the Soldiers' and Sailors' Monument and other points of interest
in and around Indianapolis were also
"filmed." While suggestions from Hoosiers in all parts of the State
have been pouring in relative to a suitable title for history film no selection has yet been made and there is still time for those of an inventive turn of mind to score. The sum twenty-five dollars has been offered
to the persons submitting the idea
table.

Trembling and Weak Knees.

So confident is the Ft. Wayne Centennial Finance Committee that
there will be money in the treasury
after all expenses of their big June Centennial celebration have been
met, that plans are already under-
of a Ft. Wayne Convention Hall
fund. The fine spirit of faith and
"get there" thus manifested is commended to the doubting and the terrified.

George Ade Booklet.

The much heralded Home Coming Booklet compiled by George Ade under the auspices of the Indiana Historical Commission is being published by the Bobbs-Merrill Company

and is now in press. Watch for Chic Jackson's ensemble of the Bean
family, which will promptly place
the book upon the shelf of the six
best sellers.

A Music Tournament.

Garrett is planning ambitiously for
a Centennial celebration to be held on May 5. A unique feature will be
a music fest and tournament partici-
Kalb County.
